2 Hurt In Knife, Ice Pick Attacks

Simpson Student Injured

Man Accosted At Parking Lot

Two Mansfielders were injured yesterday and last night in attacks with a knife and ice pick.

Richard Zimmerman, 35, of 484 South Diamond street, was stabbed twice in the chest last night in a reported robbery attempt at the American Legion parking lot on Park avenue west.

A 15-year-old John Simpson junior high school student was injured by a fellow student who wielded an ice pick yesterday afternoon on the school grounds. It was the second stabbing at a Mansfield school in two days.

Neither victim was seriously injured.

Zimmerman, who suffered two wounds in the upper left chest, said he left the Legion home about 11:10. He said he was getting in his car in the parking lot as two youths, believed about 19 and 22 years old, approached from behind and said: "Give us your money now."

THOUGHT IT WAS JOKE

"I thought it was someone pulling a joke on me," Zimmerman said, "and I told them to get out. Then I turned around and saw it wasn't a joke."

Zimmerman said he started back to the Legion home and one of the youths, dressed in a grey topcoat, stepped up and stabbed him twice in the chest with a knife. The other youth, dressed in a GI field jacket, then said, "We'd better beat it," and both ran in the direction of West Third street.

Zimmerman was treated at General hospital and released.

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer said today the junior high stabbing grew out of an argument over a similar knifing at Senior high school Monday in which a 16-year-old basketball player suffered deep slashes on the arm and hand.

"If any more boys are brought into this court as the result of stabbings they are going to the industrial school," Judge Cramer warned.

A 15-year-old John Long avenue boy, wielder of the ice pick, was reported to be the brother of the 16-year-old boy who stabbed an athlete at Senior high the day before. Both brothers are now on two years probation after they were given suspended sentences to BIS at Lancaster.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

The junior high victim yesterday, who supposedly challenged his assailant to "come outside," was treated for stab wounds in the stomach at General hospital and released.

Both boys were ordered to stay away from each other, to report to the court every Saturday and to be home early in the evenings. The father of the ice pick wielder was ordered to pay the victim's doctor bills.

The attack on Zimmerman last night was similar to an assault on two 14-year-old boys last Saturday night in an alley between Elm and Adams streets.

The assailants then were described as two youths in their late teens. They used knives as weapons and robbed Jerry Maddox, 93 Park avenue east, and Douglas Snyder, 103 Elm street, the victims told police.

Dope Watered, Man Arrested

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Mount Carmel hospital became puzzled two weeks ago because doses from its morphine supply were having no effect on patients.

The hospital called in U. S. Narcotics Agent Albert Cook, and he discovered why today.

Cook said an attendant had been taking the drug from bottles and replacing it with water.

The agent took Matthew Farley, 31, into custody.

Appeal Thrown Out

COLUMBUS— (INS)—The State Supreme Court today threw out the appeal of Ralph Reed, 27-year-old Cleveland holdup murderer, and fixed April 1 as the date for his execution in the Ohio penitentiary electric chair.

Cabinet Changes Hinted

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Continuing cabinet changes during the next few months were foreseen here today with special emphasis on the department of national defense.

Defense Secretary James Forrestal and Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall were among those about whose tenure there was speculation.

Some of Forrestal's close associates have said he expected to remain through this session of Congress or until action was completed on legislation to improve the national defense setup. The unification plan now in effect is not working as smoothly as had been expected.

PROGRAM STALLED

The congressional program now is halted in the Senate by filibuster. This program has been lagging so badly in both houses the past two months as to make a long summer session almost inevitable. Under those circumstances Forrestal might not wait for further action on national defense. May 1 was suggested as a possible retirement date.

No one is being abruptly shunted out of the cabinet. Mr. Truman had some changes in mind when he was returned to office as president in his own right. His intention was to work them out gradually.

That both Forrestal and Royall would depart in the process has been expected here, and perhaps both about the same time.

Louis Johnson, of West Virginia, who was the financial savior of Mr. Truman's presidential campaign, is among those mentioned for the top national defense spot. But there is great opposition to Johnson, also.

Seek Aid In 'Gag' Fight

GOP Asked to Back Barkley

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Knowland (R) Cal., today asked the Senate GOP leadership to help break the southern filibuster against a proposed gag rule this week.

Knowland's plea will be carried into a closed-door session of the Republican Senate Policy committee this afternoon.

He wants Republican Senators to sustain a possible ruling by Vice President Barkley that the existing gag rule applies to the current filibuster. This would reverse former President Pro Tempore Vandenberg (R) Mich., and other previous presiding officers.

At the same time, Vandenberg asked his GOP colleagues to brush aside the question of whether they would be sustaining his 1948 ruling or reversing it by their votes. He said:

"I want Republicans to vote the way they think is right without any thought as to whether they are upholding me or Barkley."

Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., co-author of the gag rule change proposal, urged that the Policy committee lay the question before the full Senate conference.

Call Reveals Double-Death

LIMA —(AP)— Police received a telephone call from a man today:

"Come out to 511 Fairfield drive. I shot my wife."

At the address two detectives found Mr. and Mrs. Alta E. Benedum dead of a .22 rifle shot in the head.

Coroner T. J. Talbott said that Benedum, a retired oil refiners worker, apparently shot his wife, then killed himself.

Evidence indicated Mrs. Benedum was slain as she ate breakfast.

POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS

MEDINA—(AP)—Police Chief Ed Wells has resigned—the second chief to quit the post within the last year and a half.

Blockade Russian Mission

U. S. Acts After Order Ignored

FRANKFURT — (UP) — American military police today set up a water-tight blockade around the house occupied by eight Russian members of a Soviet repatriation commission who said they couldn't leave the American zone as ordered until they heard from Moscow.

The Russians apparently settled down for a long siege in the luxurious red sandstone mansion that has served as their residence and office. Strains of accordion music were heard floating from the blockaded house.

German workmen shut off all water, gas, electricity and telephone service to the house by disconnecting wires and digging up mains. Eight American military police, each armed with a .45 caliber automatic pistol and a police club, patrolled the house under orders to let no one in or out.

The blockade was established shortly after 8 a. m. when the Russians ignored a deadline set for their departure. Several hours later Lt. Col. Andrie Lazarev, head of the Russian military mission in Frankfurt, drove to the mansion and tried to get in. Military police stoped him. He left quietly.

The Russians, four enlisted men and four officers, are members of an eight-man Soviet repatriation mission which was ordered out of the American zone of Germany by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

The mission's accreditation to the American zone expired at midnight Monday. The Russians refused to leave. Col. S. A. Wood, Frankfurt provost marshal, extended the deadline another 32 hours, until 8 a. m. today.

The Russians still were there when the deadline passed, refusing to leave on grounds they could be charged with treason if they abandoned their post without orders from Moscow.

23 Perish In Storms

(By Associated Press)

Temperatures moderated over the snow-covered northeastern section of the country today as the death toll in storms which swept the area mounted to 23.

Strong winds and cloudy skies kept temperatures well above zero over the New England sections where sub-zero readings had been forecast. The cold air centered north of Lake Ontario.

The deaths in the storm belt were attributed to over-exertion in the cold and snow. There were six deaths in Connecticut, which reported the heaviest fall in the New England area.

In some sections the falls measured as much as 25 inches. Six persons also died in Massachusetts, four each in New Jersey and New York, two in Rhode Island and one in Maine.

PERISHES IN FLAMES

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. —(AP)— One man was killed and three others injured in a fire which broke out in the top floor of the five story Harms hotel today.

FAREWELL TO OFFICER AND FRIEND—Members of Mansfield's police department stand with uncovered heads as the casket of their co-worker, Lt. William J. Taylor, is borne down the steps of the First English Lutheran church. The photo was taken yesterday afternoon just after final rites were spoken for the officer at the First English Lutheran church by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, standing in robe, left foreground, and Rev. Olan Aughbaugh, assistant pastor, right foreground. Lt. Taylor died last Saturday of wounds suffered when he attempted to disarm Robert Dilgard at Dilgard's home a week before. Dilgard was killed by Patrolman Carl Berry.

Tribute to a Fine Man

500 Attend Last Rites for Taylor

Lt. William J. Taylor, 39, the Mansfield policeman who lost his life in strict adherence to duty, was called a "fine policeman, a gentleman and a Christian" yesterday afternoon by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell at memorial services at the First Lutheran church.

Lt. Taylor died last Saturday noon from gunshot wounds suffered when he tried to disarm Robert Dilgard, gun-crazed veteran in his home at 321 East Fourth street on Friday afternoon, Feb. 18. Dilgard was later shot and killed by Patrolman Carl Berry.

Five hundred relatives and friends heard the words of tribute paid by Rev. Mitchell. Scores of floral pieces lined the front of the altar and extended to the sides of the chancel. A dozen others were placed in front of the choir loft.

Scripture for yesterday's service was read by Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor of the church, and Mrs. Clayson E. Bell was at the organ.

In his "in memoriam" to Lt. Taylor, Rev. Mitchell likened a good policeman to a shepherd who, like the Good Shepherd, protects his sheep.

"The community is a policeman's sheep. He protects it and the community is greatly dependent upon the men who guard the public from danger. If any one is bribed or intimidated or is careless with that wall of protection then the community suffers.

"Bill Taylor, who was my friend, was a good policeman, faithful and honest and courageous. Even in the hospital when his life hung on a thread, when I talked and prayed with him, he was the same, smiling and courageous.

WAS GENTLEMAN

"Secondly, he was a gentleman. Last night when the members of the police force placed white carnations in symbolic design on his casket, they were a symbol of Bill Taylor's life. It was a good life and to live the kind of a life he did cost him his life. Many would have shot first and asked questions afterwards, but he tried to take the gun first and in trying was shot himself.

"But most important of all he was a Christian. He stood here at the altar and confessed his faith. 'Let not your heart be troubled.' That great and precious promise was given for Bill Taylor, his wife and daughter and those who loved him."

As the casket stood before the altar of the church from noon until 3 p. m. yesterday, Lt. John E. Steel, and Patrol-

Beam Seeks Withdrawal

Council Candidate Appeals to Board

William B. Beam, of 1001 Park avenue west, today asked the Richland county board of elections to remove his name from the ballot as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Second ward councilman.

Withdrawal of Beam from the race will leave veteran Councilman Charles N. Shultz, unopposed for the Republican nomination in that ward.

Harry E. Colbow is unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the ward.

In a letter addressed to the board, Beam who is the son of Attorney Lydon H. Beam, said he didn't believe he would have sufficient time to conduct a campaign or devote to the office, if elected.

Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said he would present the letter to the board at its next meeting.

Young Beam, who recently started to work for his father in his law office, said:

"I find I would not have sufficient amount of time to properly conduct a campaign nor a sufficient amount of time, in my opinion, to devote to the office of councilman in case of my election."

Beam, who graduated from Harvard Law school, in January, has taken his Ohio bar examinations and is awaiting an answer within several weeks, his father said.

Farmer Pays $28,000 for French Gift

WICHITA, Kas.—(AP)—A Kansas farmer has paid $9,555.28 in income tax for two carloads of wheat he donated to the Friendship Train.

David C. White, a Kingsdown, Kas., farmer paid the tax yesterday, but said he was going to fight for a refund.

White and his attorney, W. D. Jochems, estimated the wheat gift actually cost him more than $28,000.

Two Admit Murdering Widow, Baby

Swindle, Kill Across Country

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.— (AP) — The law moved today against a mail order Romeo and his woman confederate in a ghastly story of a "lonely hearts" racket.

Three deaths—of two women and a small child—were in the background.

Facing murder charges were Raymond Martinez Fernandez, 34, and his girl friend, stocky Martha Beck, 29, thrice-married divorcee and mother of two children.

Prosecutor Roger C. McMahon said both had made "full confessions" and told freely of incorporating murder in an "easy money" fleecing of lonely women.

Bodies of the mother and daughter were dug out of cement-filled graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center yesterday.

Last night, working on information from Grand Rapids police, authorities in New York dug up the body of a woman in a South Ozone Park, Queens, cellar.

She was not immediately identified.

Here, however, Prosecutor McMahon said that Fernandez and Mrs. Beck declared the woman was their victim— a Mrs. Janet Fay—and that they had beaten and strangled her.

As recited by police, the Hawaiian - born Fernandez and black - haired Mrs. Beck, who weighs 200 pounds, gave a shocking story.

It led from the south, to the east, and the middlewest as the pair, posing as brother and sister, plundered unwitting women of thousands of dollars.

Marriages and promises of marriage from the glib Fernandez figured prominently in the account, McMahon said.

Fear of disclosure led them to kill Mrs. Downing and her daughter, bright-eyed Rainelle, McMahon said.

Mrs. Fay's death was the result of Mrs. Beck's "jealousy" of the New York woman, according to the prosecutor. First, however, they had secured $3,000 from her.

13 Groups Give 100%

A total of $1,112 was reported for the first day of the Red Cross campaign to raise $48,835 in Mansfield and Richland county, it was announced today by Glenn L. Bierly, campaign chairman.

Thirteen groups who gave 100 percent were reported for the first day. They include employes of the Elks club, Drumm Color Service, Dr. D. A. Weir's office, Nevah Ditwiler shop, Hien barber shop, Mansfield Welding company, Quality Shoe Service, Boliantz market, Dr. John T. Clark's office, Dr. R. B. Moyer's office, Dr. R. E. Wharton's office, Dr. R. C. Long's office, Don C. Gardner's office.

The campaign opened yesterday when 800 volunteer workers began canvassing homes and industries.

Mrs. Bess Augsburger, executive director of the Richland county Red Cross, in pointing out the need for Red Cross funds, said there are a monthly average of 13,000 Red Cross volunteers performing personal and recreational services in more than 110 veterans hospitals throughout the country.

Girdles Globe In 94 Hours

Refueled In Mid-Air

FT. WORTH, Tex.—(INS) A giant United States Air Force B-50 bomber today completed the first non-stop around the world flight in history. The flight was made in 94 hours even.

The B-50, an improved version of the war-famed B-29 Superfortress, took off from Carswell Army air base at Fort Worth, Saturday, Feb. 26, at 12:21 P. M. (EST). It landed at the same base today at 10:21 A. M. (EST). The flight was eastbound.

A new mid-air re-fueling technique made the unprecedented flight possible. B-29 "tankers" were used to re-fuel the B-50 at four points of the trip.

The plane, with its 14 crew members, maintained an average air speed of more than 249 miles an hour for the 23,452 miles flown.

Air Secretary Symington and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of the air force, flew from Washington to greet the globe girdling airmen.

"LUCKY LADY"

Dubbed the "Lucky Lady, the Second," the history making plane was commanded by Capt. James Gallagher of Melrose, Minn.

The previous world non-stop flight record was 11,235 miles, established by a Navy P-2-V during a flight in 1946 from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio.

The Lucky Lady the Second flew only 1,500 miles less than the circumference of the earth.

The three most recent round the world flights, all made with several stops for fueling, covered only about 18,000 miles. Capt. Bill Odom was the last to turn the trick in the Reynolds Bomb Shell.

Previously Odom and Milton Reynolds, fountain pen magnate, accomplished the feat. Some years before their flight Howard Hughes made a similar flight.

The Lucky Lady's crew were fatigued but in good physical condition at the end of their gruelling ordeal.

Two tankers were used in each refueling. The gasoline transfers were made over the Azores, Saudi Arabia, the Philippine Islands and the Hawaiian Islands.

The Lucky Lady's historic flight, held as a closely guarded secret until this morning, came just 25 years after the first round the world "air tour" was made by the air force. In 1924 a number of Liberty 400 bombers left Seattle and flew 26,345 miles.

It took the fliers 175 days and won the Collyer trophy for the air force.

The air force classified the Lucky Lady's flight as a "training mission." A spokesman said it was "part of a continuing program of in-flight re-fueling training flights which will be flown to all parts of the world."

Three co-ordinating officers were stationed at each of the refueling points. The bomber radioed hourly position reports.

The B-50 bomber is built by Boeing Aircraft company in Seattle. It mounts four Pratt and Whitney engines, each of three thousand horsepower. It has a top speed of 400 miles per hour, and can carry a 10,000 pound bomb load for 6,000 miles.

The air force has ordered 390 of the planes.

Prayers Fail, Cancer Claims Little Child

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — The miracle her parents prayed for failed to occur, and twenty-month-old Pat Lightner died today of cancer.

The Power Point, O., girl written off as "incurably ill" by doctors, finally succumbed to the disease in Pittsburgh where she had been undergoing treatment at the Drosnes-Lazenby cancer clinic.

Pat first became ill last summer. She was taken to the Cleveland clinic where her ailment was diagnosed as a tumor on the kidney.

Her kidney was removed last September, and the girl was believed on the road to recovery. A month ago, the ailment reappeared and doctors gave up hope for the girl.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. NYE

Solemn Preparation for Easter

Special Church Services Mark Opening of Lent

The season of solemn preparation for religious observance of the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ, begins today with prayer and meditation in Mansfield churches.

In both St. Peter's Catholic church and the Grace Episcopal those services began early this morning with mass and holy communion. At St. Peter's the usual masses were said but at 8:15 a. m. there was the blessing and distribution of ashes in a solemn high mass. At 7:30 p. m. today there will be a Lenten sermon and benediction and ashes will again be distributed.

Services at Grace Episcopal were to continue throughout the day beginning at 7 a. m. and again at 10 a. m., 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Following the 8 p. m. worship there will be an hour of fellowship in the undercroft.

For most Protestant churches there will be evening services today at 7:30 p. m. with appropriate sermons and music and recognition of the Christian solemnity of the occasion.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell preaches at the First Lutheran on the theme, "A Man of God."

Rev. John C. Melchert at the St. John's church at 7:45 p. m. will talk on the first of the "Seven Last Words of Christ."

For his sermon tonight, Dr. Herbert S. Garnes has chosen the subject, "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By." "The Ashes of Repentance" will be the topic of the sermon by Dr. Charles F. Sheriff at St. Matthew's Lutheran church and at St. Mark's Lutheran, Rev. C. A. Portz will begin the discussion of "Great Hymns of Lent."

Holy communion will be administered by Rev. John G. Gensel at the St. Paul Lutheran church and he will speak on "The Lord's Prayer."

Two churches of the city, at least, will observe the beginning of Lent tomorrow night. Dr. W. M. Taylor at the Park Avenue Baptist will preach at 7:30 on the first phase of the subject, "That All May Know With Better Understanding."

Rev. Willard J. Shawk, at the Main Street Evangelical UB church, will present Rev. E. E. Nietz tomorrow night. Rev. Nietz, conference superintendent, will give a Lenter meditation, then conduct the quarterly conference.

Uncle Sam Trains Atom Bomb Wardens

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE, BILOXI, MISS. — (UP) — The government hasn't let it out before, but Uncle Sam is training a crew of experts to help most of us keep on living if an atomic bomb happens to fall in our back yard.

It's something like the air raid warden training we got in the late war, only a lot better and a lot more complicated. In these radiological defense schools, you get more than a white tin hat and a bucket of sand.

There are three schools in operation. One is here, within a pebble pitch of the Gulf of Mexico. One is in Edgewood, Md., and the third is located at Treasure Island, in San Francisco bay.

The atom warden will be better trained than the air raid warden of war days. He has to be.

The first class of 41 "pupils" has just been graduated from Keesler field here. It includes a lot of military people, some health officials and a few common joes, all with at least a bachelor of science degree. They are now qualified to instruct others.

When a fellow goes through the training here he gets the works. He takes a full course in mathematics. He learns to use the complicated instruments that can measure the rate of decay in any area where a bomb falls. In other words, he can tell his helpers how soon it will be safe for them to move in to evacuate survivors.

The "students" also must go through a complete course in nuclear physics and make a careful study of magnetic radiation.

Then comes a course under men like Maj. Gerritt L. Hekhuis, a medical corps man who is an expert on the medical as well as the psychological aspects of the training. In this classroom a man learns a lot of intresting things.

BADGE WARNS

For example, all about what is known as the "film badge," that is, a "badge" you clip onto your coat lapel as you walk near an a-bombed area. It is sensitive to radiation and by studying it, an expert can determine how soon it will be safe to send in relief workers. When exposed to radioactivity the film becomes black like any film exposed to light.

Curriculum of the radiological defense course was recommended and approved by the atomic energy commission. It is similar to that of army and navy schools.

"We hate to think about it," said Capt. Philip S. Gwynn, one of the instructors, "but maybe one day we will have to cope with the problem the Japs had when we dumped those bombs over there. Our objective is to train people to see that the casualties are as small as possible."

In the training course, mob psychology is an important as anything else.

"Half of the people killed at Hiroshima," said the Captain, "Could have been saved if there had been anybody there to tell them what to do."

"What to do" is pretty complicated, too. Particularly if a bomb fell on—say, Beloit, Wis.

In that case, the government would quickly dispatch an agent to estimate the "safe area." In other words, find out how close a man could come to the bombed section without risking his life.

Each expert is first trained to locate the center of the burst—find out exactly where the thing fell. Then he takes some instruments into the area, calculates the wind direction, etc., and decides how far out a safe distance would be.

"Ordinarily," said Capt. Gwynn, "a safe distance out would be seven or eight miles—although I wouldn't guarantee it."

His advice: "Stay as far away as you can."

Madison Holds Bucyrus to 36-29 Victory

SALEM, Bellville's opponent in the district basketball tournament, is one of five unbeaten Class B teams in Ohio. . . . Salem has copped 20 without a miss and has grabbed four straight Wyandot county titles. . . . Others on the priority list are: Walnut Creek, Holmes county, with 23; Conesville, Coshocton county, 21 and North Baltimore, Wood county and Monroeville, Huron county, both with 20. . . .

However, we still think the record of Lockland Wayne tops all of the "B" schools . . Wayne has won 24 of 25, losing only to Hamilton Public, the Class A favorite . . . The Lockland quintet twice topped the 100-point mark . . Findlay's loss to Fostoria last week was a surprising thing . . . The Trojans had not been beaten at home for four years or hadn't dropped a Buckeye league tilt since 1945 but Fostoria turned the trick, 46 to . . . It was the second loss of the season for the defending Class A champs . . . Hamilton Catholic, runner-up to Findlay last year, seems out of the picture with only seven wins in 17 games . Hamilton Public has 17 wins and one defeat while Bucyrus also has one of the state's better records with that 16-1 mark.

EATON, 1948 Class B winner, has won all nine of its games from "B" teams but has been an easy mark for several Class A teams. . . . The No. 2 team in Class B a year ago, Lima St. Rose, is back on the warpath . . The Rosarians have 19 wins and three losses and won the Lima exempted village tournament last week . . St. Rose handed Fredericktown its only defeat in 23 games . . . Yorkville, the team that features high-scoring Ken Alezzi, has copped five straight Jefferson county crowns.

DICK SCHNITTKER may break his own Ohio State basketball scoring record against DePaul Saturday . . . Dandy Dick needs seven points to equal the standard of 322 he set last season . . . Schnittker is a junior. . . . A wire report says a Youngstown Chaney basketball fired a 75-foot pass in the final minute of play against Canton McKinley and the thing went through the nets for two points . The Yankees have not had a field captain since Lou Gehrig . . . And down in Mexico City they still operate a Lou Gehrigh baseball league.

Tygers and Ashland Show Wares Tonight

By FRED THARP

Madison high school put a dent in the supposedly impregnable cage armor of a highly-favored Bucyrus Redmen aggregation last night at Senior high before bowing in the sectional tournament opener, 36 to 29.

Exhibiting a ball-control style of offense for the first time this season, the Rams took the sting out of Bucyrus's touted race horse attack. In fact Madison was so successful in its efforts that the Redmen did not get one of their patented fast breaks through to a successful conclusion.

What made the result even more surprising was the fact that Bucyrus had beaten the Rams on the same hardwood during the regular season, 66 to 33. Last night's game was marked the 15th straight victory for Al Pesek's club and gave them a seasonal record of 16 wins in 17 games.

Only about 1,000 fans witnessed the clash but a full house is expected tonight when a pair of contests are on the docket. Ashland, seeded No. 2, goes against Crestline at 7 p. m. with Mansfield Senior high battling the Galion Tygers at 8:30. Senior high was seeded No. 3 and Shelby No. 4. The Shelby crew will see its first action against Bucyrus Friday.

Blaine Dowler, concluding his first year at the helm of the Madison basketballers, gave the ball-control offensive to his Rams for the first time in practice Monday night. Madison was a bit rusty in its ball-handling at times as Bucyrus flashed a pressing defense but the Redmen never could get going for any stretch of time.

Actually Madison was very much in the game until the final 150 seconds. Then Bucyrus started to stall with the count, 32 to 29. Sub Norman Smith hit a two-hander from the keyhole with two minutes left and then elongated Paul Katterhenrich dumped in one from under the bucket with some 20 seconds to go.

Madison outscored the winners in the first and fourth quarters but dropped too far behind early in the second heat. The Rams took only 32 shots from the court, making nine while Bucyrus could connect on only 14 of 54. A good share of the Redmen shots had to be taken from out on the court as the Rams' 1-3-1 zone kept the under-the-basket area pretty well bottled.

Bucyrus averaged about three inches to the man more than Madison, but was unable to control the boards to any extent. Kattenhenrich, the 6-4 importation, got 10 points in the first half but did not tally again until the final 20 seconds.

The Redmen hopped into a 4-to-2 lead at the outset but Larry Secrist hit from the foul line and Jimmy Brightbill came through from underneath to put Madison ahead after the first four minutes. Secrist hit another foul and Joe Distl dunked a one-hander to give Madison its longest lead at 8-4. Bucyrus closed the gap to 8-7 but Ed Chelski and Katterhenrich traded gratis tosses to give Madison a 9-8 quarter lead.

COOLS 'EM OFF

Distl led off the second quarter with a free throw but Bucyrus notched seven straight points before the "control" cooled 'em off again. Then Chelski got a foul, Brightbill connected from in close after a fancy bit of passing and Distl hit a one-hander to pare the margin to 17-15.

Bucyrus closed the half leading, 19 to 15, and built up a 28-to-18 lead in the third quarter. However, the Madison players didn't get rattled and Distl hit two from the foul line as the period ended.

The Rams sliced the margin to 28-24 but fell back again to 32-25. Brightbill banged in a rebound and Ray Bader hit a overhead shot to put the score at the 32-29 point.

Bucyrus had averaged 56.9 per game up until last night and it was the first time the Redmen had been held under 40 points. In fact in the last 12 games, Bucyrus had scored in the 50's three times, in the 60's six times and in the 70's twice.

Madison made 11 of 22 free throws and Bucyrus eight of 15. The Redmen lost Bill Kibler and Jack Temple by personals in the fourth quarter.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

HONOLULU—Manuel Ortiz, 118, El Centro, Calif. outpointed Dado Marino, 116, Honolulu 15 (Title)

Deacon Tutors Tribe Hurlers In Drill Camp

TUCSON, Ariz., — (AP) — Deacon Bill McKechnie, who made quite a name for himself as a handler of pitchers when he was a national league pilot, has been delegated responsibility for the Cleveland Indians hurling staff through spring training.

"Bill's in complete charge until April 19, opening day," manager Lou Boudreau said yesterday. "He'll decide when pitchers are ready to begin throwing in batting practice. He'll pick the pitchers for all exhibition games. All I'll know about that department will be what he tells me."

So it will be largely up to the Deacon to trim the Tribe's mound corps from its present 14 to about 10 during the next six weeks.

If Don Black and Russ Christopher, both excused from training sessions here, are physically capable of doing duty; probably only two new pitchers will be added to the world champions' hurling roster. The odds are that they will be Early Wynn and Frank Papish, established big leauers with Washington and Chicago, respectively, before coming to Cleveland in winter trades.

Of four rookies likely to go back to the minors for further seasoning, Mike Garcia, who won 19 games for a poor Oklahoma City club last season, is the best bet to remain. Lyman Linde, Dick Rozek and Will Hafey will have to show up mighty well to stick.

Boudreau may hand McKechnie a 15th pitching candidate in outfielder Bob Kennedy. Kennedy, who batted 301 for the Tribe after coming from Chicago last summer, is a rival of Allie Clark and Hank Edwards for the right field position.

"If he fails to make the grade there," Boudreau said, "I'll give him a trial as a pitcher. My own opinion is that he can be a real good pitcher, but, of course, he needs experience, and that takes time."

No Tickets At Cage Door

There will be no tickets available tonight for sectional Class A tournament games at Senior high school unless some ducats are returned by Crestline, Galion or Ashland.

George Sherman, Senior high ticket manager, made the announcement this morning and added it was unlikely that any of the three schools would return ducats.

Senior high's allotment of tickets for the Friday and Saturday sessions are also sold out. However, if the Tygers defeat Galion tonight another 275 tickets for Friday's game will go on sale tomorrow at the school's commerical department.

Volleyball Loop Fete Set Tonight

The Girls' Volleyball league will formally conclude its first season tonight with a banquet at the Southern Hotel honoring the champion Chargers team.

Individual gold trophies will be presented to the nine members of the team by Stan Kamen, city recreation director. Team members are: Virginia Zara, Donna Thomas, Mary Miller, Lola Bachelder, Louis Van Winkle, Norma Blandi, Jane Berry, Betty Nelson, and Maizie Birmelin.

Groups Review Coach Ousting

FAYETTE, Ia. —(AP)— Students at upper Iowa University yesteroday agreed to end their two-day-old strike which was begun in protest of the discharge of basketball coach Joe Fortunato.

In return, three members of the school's board of trustees agreed to meet with a student committee soon to review the dismissal action.

School officials said they discharged Fortunato because his lack of a masters degree was imperiling the school's accreditment.

Fortunato, meanwhile, said he planned to leave soon for his home at Fostoria, Ohio. He said he might return to Kent State, his alma mater, to take graduate work.

More than half the school's students stayed away from classes since yesterday morning.

Archie Moore New Heavy Candidate

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A new candidate for the heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis turned up today in the person of Archie Moore of New York, scheduled to arrive in Columbus today for a Friday bout with the Alabama Kid.

Moore, considered by some as the number one light heavyweight challenger, said he fully expected to be in the elimination matches to pick the new champion.

Cleveland Barons Move Near Lead

(By International News Service)

Top spot in the American hockey league's western division was again within sight of the Cleveland Barons today as they visited Pittsburgh for the second half of a home-and-home series with the Hornets.

Cleveland moved within one point of the first place Indianapolis Caps on a 5-2 win over Pittsburgh last night. The victory dropped the Hornets into a third-place deadlock with St. Louis.

Hamilton, Bucyrus Over First Hurdles

By HAROLD LISK

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Highly-touted quintets from Hamilton and Bucyrus—along with defending champion Findley Trojans—were safely past their first opponents in sectional and district Class A high school tourneys today.

Only one upset of major consequence was recorded in play in 11 Class A tourneys which saw action last night. That occurred at Youngstown, where Ursuline scored a 32-to-24 victory over Canton Central.

Canton Central had been seeded in the district play and up until last night had a record of 15 wins against only three losses. The defeat leaves only two Canton teams in the Youngstown meet.

LOSE ONLY ONCE

Hamilton and Bucyrus scored their wins at Cincinnati and Mansfield respectively. Each has lost only one game all season.

Hamilton's Big Blue defeated Cincinnati Mt. Healthy, 67 to 24, while Bucyrus chalked up its 16th win of the year in turning back Mansfield Madison, 36 to 29.

Findlay got past its first opponent in the A sectional at Findlay without any trouble, submerging Wapakoneta, 62 to 27. Last year's state champs will meet Lima South, winners over Kenton last night, in a semi-final game Friday.

IN CLOSE WIN

Cincinnati's St. Xavier, seeded along with Hamilton Public, in the southwestern district tourney in the Queen City, also recorded a victory last night—a 33-29 win over Roger Bacon.

Play in the Columbus Central district tourney went much as expected with Columbus East, Newark and Columbus Linden winning first round games. Only the Newark win over Columbus North could be termed anything like an upset of the dope bucket.

Defiance and Wauseon fought their way into semi-final play in the Defiance district and at Dayton, seeded Dunbar scored a 59-55 win over Greenville in opening of play there.

Lakewood continued undefeated in getting past St. Ignatius, 47 to 33, at the Berea meet, while Steubenville's Big Red won easily from Central Catholic from the same city, 62 to 47.

Benefit Court Game Only 2 Weeks Distant

The benefit basketball game between the Cleveland Browns and the Mansfield all-stars is only two weeks away.

All proceeds from the March 16 contest at Senior high school will go to the Friendly House gymnasium equipping fund. Advance ticket sales have indicated a good crowd for the battle.

Elmer Hedeen, co-chairman of the Goodfellows club which is sponsoring the game, emphasized today, "We need a sell-out crowd for the game so we can reach out goal of $2,000 or more for the Friendly House gym."

The Goodfellows hope for a crowd of 1,500 persons at the game. Reserved seat tickets are on sale at $2 while general admission ducats go for $1. Uptown ticket offices are at the City News, Elks club and Tawse pharmacy.

The All-Stars will play their second tune-up game Sunday afternoon against the Galion Stars in the Galion armory. The Mansfield team topped the strong Loudonville Flxible Flyers in their first start.

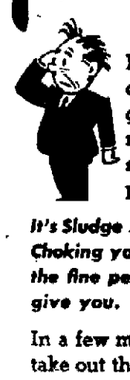
Don't let Sludge smother fine engine performance



It isn't the age or condition of your motor that is eating up gas and oil, giving you poor mileage, irritating you constantly with sluggish, slow, poor performance.

It's Sludge . . . Automobile Enemy No. 1. . . Choking your engine to death, smothering the fine performance your motor can still give you.

In a few minutes, a Motor Hi-Klonic will take out the sludge, every sticky, tricky, gooey drop of it . . . it will get the gum and grit and destructive road dirt and metal filings, too. It will free piston rings, restore cylinder clearances, get life-saving lubrication to every moving part.

All in a few minutes . . . at an average cost. Seeing is believing. Drive in tomorrow and have this miracle performed before your eyes.

Two Heavy Champs In Prospect

MIAMI, Fla.. — (AP) — Two world heavyweight boxing "champions" and a bitter brawl for financial control of the ear-scrambling trade are the likely results of Joe Louis' decision to re-retire and become a promoter.

The two "champs" probably will emerge from this scramble:

1. Winner of a 15-round Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott bout, to be promoted by Louis and his associates in June, will be recognized by the national boxing association.

2. Jack Solomons, British promoter, will claim the title for the survivor of a series involving Lee Savold, Bruce Woodcock and Freddie Mills.

Attitude of the New York state athletic commission, the only major ring group not associated with the NBA, is not definite. Chairman Eddie Eagan probably will receive a copy of Louis' retirement today. He has indicated that he prefers an elimination tournament to select a champ but expects no immediate action.

Louis touched off this wild scramble yesterday in surprising fashion when Abe Green, NBA commissioner, made public a letter in which the brown bomber formally resigned as champion.

In his letter to Greene, Louis wrote that he had entered a partnership with Arthur M. Wirtz and James D. Norris to form the international boxing club. He asked for and was given permission by Greene to run the Walcott-Charles fight for the championship in June.

Louis told reporters here as he boarded a plane for a Nassau exhibition, "I'm glad to retire. It takes a great load off my mind. I could see that I couldn't fight any more and rather than lose the title in the ring. I decided to quit.

Under the provisions of the Walcott-Charles bout, and as announced by Louis, the winner must defend his title within 90 days after their June fight. Either Savold or Gus Lesnevich, who lost his world light heavyweight crown to Mills last July, would be the opponent. Each contestant agreed to defend at least twice a year.

Louis, youngest ever to win the heavyweight title when he stopped Braddock in 1937. At the age of 23, earned $3,887,323.72 in his career according to ring magazine.

Ontario Battles Forest Five

Hardin County Champions Small, Speedy

By CHARLEY STINE

Ontario high school will play its first district tournament basketball game in nine years tonight when it goes up against Forest at 7:30 in Bucyrus high gym.

Not since 1938 when Coach Dick Casad was the high-scoring schoolboy center have the Warrior fans had a chance to cheer for the team in district play. And only about 210 of them will get a chance to do so tonight.

EACH GET EQUAL

That is the number Ontario was given as its share of the 900 seats in the Bucyrus gym and all tickets were sold out yesterday, Coach Dick Casad reported. The three other schools were given a like amount and 80 tickets will go on sale at 6:45 a. m., fifteen minutes after the doors open.

Opposing Ontario on the floor tonight will be the Hardin county champions who have won 13 games and lost four. One of the losses was a two-pointer to undefeated Salem of Wyandot county which Bellville plays tomorrow night. The Warriors have won 13 of 17.

Ontario will have an advantage in height over the extremely small Forest team and may use this to advantage on the tourney floor which is considerably smaller than the Senior high floor on which the county tourney was played last week. The Warriors were runner-up in that meet, losing to Bellville in the finals.

FOREST IS FAST

Forest's tallest man is five-foot-eleven but the Hardin countians are said to make up for it in speed and aggressiveness. It has won its county tournament for two straight years, losing out to New Reigel in the first game of the district last year.

In the second game tonight at 8:45, New Riegel, Seneca county (15-5) meets Ridgeway, Hardin county (17-6).

Sycamore started the tournament off with an upset last night, spilling Mt. Cory, 36-35, in the only game.

Junior Lundy was the Sycamore hero as he brought his team from behind by sinking two free throws with only two seconds to go. Sycamore had a 14-10 record prior to the game while Mt. Cory had lost only two of 15.

Sycamore will meet New Washington in a quarter-final game at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Score by quarters:

Sycamore	10	4	12	10—36
Mt Cory	7	10	6	12—35

5 Ohio State Teams Compete In Big Nine Sport Tourneys

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Ohio State athletes will make a strong bid for top honors at the annual Western conference carnival of winter sports championships this week end. Buckeye track, swimming, wrestling, fencing and gymnastic squads will journey to five cities for competition.

Larry Snyder's indoor track squad has the best possibility of emerging victorious at Champaign, Ill. Ohio State is out to defend its team title.

Lloyd Duff, the Buckeyes' versatile star, will be the only performer to defend two crowns. Duff places his broad jump and high hurdles crown on the block.

MAL IS BACK

The Scarlet and Gray prospects are enhanced considerably with the return of Mal Whitfield, Olympic 400-meter champ, but he will have keen competition from teammate Harry Cogswell, defending champion.

Three crowns may be forfeited by champions, who are unlikely to defend their crowns. Chuckin' Charlie Fonville, Michigan's world champion shot-putter, is out with a back injury; Illinois' Dike Eddleman is expected to pass up the high jump in order to concentrate on basketball, and Herb Barton is unlikely to defend his mile title because of an ankle injury.

RATE GOOD CHANCE

Ohio State's swimmers rate a better than fair chance of recapturing the Western conference laurels they lost to Michigan last year. Olympic Champions Bill Smith and Bruce Harlan are favored to retain their dual crowns.

Michigan is favored in a three-way dogfight for the swimming crown, although Iowa's vastly-improved Hawkeyes may upset the Buckeye-Wolverine dynasty of the past 12 years.

Ohio State's undefeated fencing team may surprise as the Buckeyes already hold a decision over Northwestern's defending champs in a dual meet. The Scarlet and Gray wrestling team has no illusions of upsetting Purdue's titlist but may make a strong showing. Only the gymnastic team doesn't expect to shine.

Senior Loop Ends Season

Play in the Senior league at the Friendly House was concluded last night as the Friendly House Trojans walloped Farmer's Market, 48-23.

Stillwell led the Trojans with 20 points.

Negotiations Open For Indian Rental Of Baseball Yard

CLEVELAND — (ins) — Cleveland Mayor Thomas A. Burke and Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, were to reopen discussions today concerning the tribe's stadium rental contract.

According to Veeck, "We're just going to talk contract and hope to make progress." He added that he did not see "any possibility of arriving at an immediate agreement."

The Cleveland ball club's present contract expires at the end of the coming season. For three years, however, the Indians and the city have talked of coming to an agreement on a long-term contract to take the place of the present five-year pact.

In recent weeks, a few city councilmen, in the absence of Mayor Burke, who was on vacation, accused Veeck of failure to pay the city a fair rental.

Veeck, in turn, accused the councilmen with bringing in personal and irrelevant matters, such as the amount of money the tribe prexy spends on promotion.

Deluxe Racing Plant Planned

BALTIMORE —(AP)— The Maryland Jockey club has announced plans to make Laurel a deluxe racing plant.

Henry A. Parr, III, club president, said Laurel will be rebuilt from "bottom to top" and enlarged to a capacity of 40,000 fans.

It all depends on Pimlico's 25 days being transferred to Laurel next year. But there appeared to be no obstacles to the proposal to close historic Pimlico and concentrate the club's racing at Laurel, midway between Baltimore and Washington.

More State Rural Highway Mishaps Listed During 1948

COLUMBUS — (INS) — State Highway Director T. J. Kauer announced Tuesday a record high of 19,239 traffic accidents were reported on rural state highways during 1948 and the total probably would have been higher if completely accurate information was available.

Commenting on the 10 per cent increase above the 17,431 total reported for 1947, Kauer said:

"It is impossible to obtain reports on all accidents because Ohio is one of only three states which still lacks a compulsory motor vehicle accident reporting law."

The highway director remarked that despite the record high in accidents, the traffic death toll for the year was only 753 — just four more than the figure for 1947.

Injuries on rural state highways totaled 13,609 or six per cent more than those reported for the previous year.

Kauer pointed out an unusual factor in the report was a reduction in pedestrian fatalities. Only 104 pedestrians were killed on rural state highways in 1948 as compared to 133 in 1947, a decrease of 22 per cent.

The six counties leading the list in traffic deaths were: Mahoning, 32; Lucas, 27; Stark, 24; Franklin 23; Columbiana, 19, and Wood 19.

Paulding and Cuyahoga were the only counties reporting no rural state highway deaths but Kauer pointed out that Cuyahoga had only 17 miles of state highways outside municipalities.

The leading counties in accident reports were: Stark, 832; Lucas, 789; Trumbull, 631; Lorain, 609, and Montgomery, 593.

Closing of the Veterans' Administration branch office in Columbus will have no bearing upon procedures used by veterans in securing VA benefits, G. D. Weidemaier, manager of the Mansfield VA office, said yesterday.

Weidemaier pointed out the only contact vets have with the Columbus office is the payment of insurance premiums. No change has been made in this department, and premiums should continue to be sent to the VA Branch Office No. 6, South Starling street, Columbus 8, Ohio.

Other services of the VA, such as medical care, educational aid, and guaranteed loans, will continue to be handled through the local office at 115½ Park avenue west.

Madison Spruces Up

The Madison theater is going to be spruced up both inside and out for spring.

A modernizing project already is under way at the theater entrance where a new stainless steel box office has been installed and stainless steel and vitrolite display cases are being built.

The theater, which has a capacity of 1,520, will get new seats late in March, Manager Al Dennis said.

The seats will be of the latest design and will cost approximately $30,000. They won't be the kind that move back as the seat is raised, but the seat will fold automatically as the patron leaves. One of the new seats now is on display in the theater lobby.

Dennis said the seats now in use in the theater have been there for 18 years and have been re-covered several times.

Shiloh Man Describes Life on Okinawa

Finds Women Do Heavy Work on Island

A resident of the Mansfield area who is serving with the Air Force is learning how the "other half" lives in the Pacific islands.

Cpl. James M. Garrett, of Shiloh, who re-enlisted in the Air Force last April, now is stationed on Okinawa.

In a letter to The News-Journal, Cpl. Garrett said almost everything on Okinawa had been destroyed during the war. He describe "the rock" as a mass of rubbish. The natives slowly are rebuilding some of the small towns, he added.

He said there is very little business as we know it. The largest business on the island is the making of small trinkets. The people are highly skilled in this work and for many it is the only means of support.

Cpl. Garrett described the native farmers as ambitious but their methods as crude. There is little modern machinery and most of the work is done with picks and shovels.

Both men and women work the small plots of land, averaging a quarter of an acre or less. Cpl. Garrett said it is a common sight to see them in the rice paddies working in mud up to their knees even in the coldest weather.

CARRY LOADS ON HEADS

Women do all the heavy work, taking the place of beasts of burden. They carry heavy loads on their heads while the men walk lazily beside them. It is not unusual to see a woman carrying a load of 150 pounds on her head, according to the Shiloh soldier.

Most of the natives' clothing is made from discarded government materials, the only material available on the island. Their shoes are crude objects made of wood and rags.

Cpl. Garrett left for overseas duty from San Francisco after being stationed at Scott Field, Ill., and Weaver Air Force base, Rapid City, S. D. He stopped briefly in Japan and Korea before going to Okinawa.

He has been stationed on Okinawa for the past five months and hopes to return to the United States next December.

Vets Attend Clinic Here

Richland county veterans enrolled in the Veterans Administration's on-farm training program are attending a farm machinery clinic in Mansfield today. The clinic is sponsored by five Mansfield farm machinery dealer. Sessions will be held at the farm equipment dealers' headquarters.

Farm training classes from Union, Shiloh, Lucas, and Shelby schools are represented.

Features of the program will include the latest in power-operated tractor tools and a newly-introduced weed killing attachment for tractors.

Each of the four farm groups will assemble at the dealers' showrooms at separate times throughout the day for a demonstration and a question and answer period on implements.

Participating managers of the various agricultural machinery agencies are H. C. Myers, Case; C. E. Young, Allis-Chalmers; Nyle Clark, Ford; J. A. Burkhart, Farm Bureau, and G. L. Rogers, International.

NOW LISTEN, OFFICER!—Sometimes you can change a traffic officer's mind if you growl right back at him. It happened to Officer Ed Pryal (left) when the "occupant" of this truck parked in a "no stopping" zone in San Francisco, Cal., wouldn't let him release the brake so truck could be towed away. Neither Pryal nor tow car operator cared to insist, so the illegal parker saved a tow charge.

Walter Lippmann Writes:

Britain In Sight of Trade Balance

During the hearings on the Economic Cooperation administration, which were conducted by Senator Connally and Representative Bloom, some, who know the score, were left with the feeling that it was all much too easy. Neither Congress nor the country got from the hearings anything like a true picture of the real difficulties of the recovery program. The committees invited, and in consequence they got, a presentation in which the grave problems that European statesmen are facing were pleasantly obscured by enthusiastic salesmanship and unimpeachable sentiments about the cold war.

No wonder, then, that Mr. Mayhew's comments about British recovery were so completely misunderstood, so completely that the President was asked at his press conference whether Marshall aid to Britain need continue in view of Mr. Mayhew's statement "that Britain has now virtually completed its economic recovery."

What Mr. Mayhew meant to say was that during the last six months of 1948 the United Kingdom exported almost as many goods and services as she imported. In that sense Britain is within sight of "balancing" her foreign trade.

But though the achievement is remarkable, reflecting the highest credit upon the British people, it is wholly misleading to make it appear that Britain has "recovered" and has reached the objective of the Marshall plan.

For when the "balance" that Mr. Mayhew was talking about is examined, it shows that Britain still has a deficit with the dollar area (roughly speaking with North America) of about $1,200,000,000 a year. That is to say Britain is still buying much more from the dollar area than she can pay for; the deficit is covered by the E. C. A. subsidy.

However, to those parts of the world where dollars are not the currency, Britain is exporting about 300 million pounds worth of goods and services more than she imports. The 300 million pound surplus, if it could be converted into dollars at four dollars to the pound, would "balance" her deficit with North America. But the crux of the problem is that the 300 million pounds cannot in fact be converted into the 1,200 million dollars, that theoretically they are worth.

The real situation is, therefore, that Britain is getting from the dollar area much more than she can pay for in dollars. And at the same time the non-dollar area is getting much more from Britain than it can pay for in sterling.

If one could forget about money and think only of goods, it could be said, broadly speaking, that a large part of what America is exporting free to Britain to other countries.

Thus the other Marshall Plan countries are getting the equivalent of 480 million dollars of British goods under the European payments scheme. Britain does not receive goods in return. In part what she gets is a reduction of her old debts. In part she is running a little Marshall Plan of her own.

No one should delude himself into thinking that the success of E. C. A. is assured, or that at the end of it, the goal of the the Marshall Plan will have been reached.

Calls Exceed Steel Supply

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Although ingot production continues at or near 100 per cent capacity, overall steel requirements remain in excess of supply, the magazine Steel said today.

The trade journal also noted that generally consumers still regard steel supplies as "money in the bank."

"Even though current operations do not require all the steel some fabricators are receiving, cancellations of mill orders are few," said Steel. "The supply situation is one of contrast. While some consumers must limit their operations to their supply, others have an excess of steel. However, the latter find no difficulty in disposing of it."

According to the magazine there is no immediate forecast of the mills dispending with their quota system in stell distribution. However, there is a disposition of some producers who had withdrawn completely or to a great extent from districts because of freight disadvantages to sound out old customers as to future needs.

"With a growing pressure for lower production costs and with some of the urgency off demand for steel, fabricators are showing increased resistance to premium priced tonnage," the publication added. "In a few instances the resistance to high prices has extended even to the regular - price steel market."

Steelmaking operations added February to its recent months in which it was at or above capacity. The others were October, November and January.

2 Hurt In Knife, Ice Pick Attacks

Simpson Student Injured

Man Accosted At Parking Lot

Two Mansfielders were injured yesterday and last night in attacks with a knife and ice pick.

Richard Zimmerman, 35, of 484 South Diamond street, was stabbed twice in the chest last night in a reported robbery attempt at the American Legion parking lot on Park avenue west.

A 15-year-old John Simpson junior high school student was injured by a fellow student who wielded an ice pick yesterday afternoon on the school grounds. It was the second stabbing at a Mansfield school in two days.

Neither victim was seriously injured.

Zimmerman, who suffered two wounds in the upper left chest, said he left the Legion home about 11:10. He said he was getting in his car in the parking lot as two youths, believed about 19 and 22 years old, approached from behind and said: "Give us your money now."

THOUGHT IT WAS JOKE

"I thought it was someone pulling a joke on me," Zimmerman said, "and I told them to get out. Then I turned around and saw it wasn't a joke."

Zimmerman said he started back to the Legion home and one of the youths, dressed in a grey topcoat, stepped up and stabbed him twice in the chest with a knife. The other youth, dressed in a GI field jacket, then said, "We'd better beat it," and both ran in the direction of West Third street.

Zimmerman was treated at General hospital and released.

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer said today the junior high stabbing grew out of an argument over a similar knifing at Senior high school Monday in which a 16-year-old basketball player suffered deep slashes on the arm and hand.

"If any more boys are brought into this court as the result of stabbings they are going to the industrial school," Judge Cramer warned.

A 15-year-old John Long avenue boy, wielder of the ice pick, was reported to be the brother of the 16-year-old boy who stabbed an athlete at Senior high the day before. Both brothers are now on two years probation after they were given suspended sentences to BIS at Lancaster.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

The junior high victim yesterday, who supposedly challenged his assailant to "come outside," was treated for stab wounds in the stomach at General hospital and released.

Both boys were ordered to stay away from each other, to report to the court every Saturday and to be home early in the evenings. The father of the ice pick wielder was ordered to pay the victim's doctor bills.

The attack on Zimmerman last night was similar to an assault on two 14-year-old boys last Saturday night in an alley between Elm and Adams streets.

The assailants then were described as two youths in their late teens. They used knives as weapons and robbed Jerry Maddox, 93 Park avenue east, and Douglas Snyder, 103 Elm street, the victims told police.

Dope Watered, Man Arrested

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Mount Carmel hospital became puzzled two weeks ago because doses from its morphine supply were having no effect on patients.

The hospital called in U. S. Narcotics Agent Albert Cook, and he discovered why today.

Cook said an attendant had been taking the drug from bottles and replacing it with water.

The agent took Matthew Farley, 31, into custody.

Appeal Thrown Out

COLUMBUS— (INS)—The State Supreme Court today threw out the appeal of Ralph Reed, 27-year-old Cleveland holdup murderer, and fixed April 1 as the date for his execution in the Ohio penitentiary electric chair.

Cabinet Changes Hinted

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Continuing cabinet changes during the next few months were foreseen here today with special emphasis on the department of national defense.

Defense Secretary James Forrestal and Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall were among those about whose tenure there was speculation.

Some of Forrestal's close associates have said he expected to remain through this session of Congress or until action was completed on legislation to improve the national defense setup. The unification plan now in effect is not working as smoothly as had been expected.

PROGRAM STALLED

The congressional program now is halted in the Senate by filibuster. This program has been lagging so badly in both houses the past two months as to make a long summer session almost inevitable. Under those circumstances Forrestal might not wait for further action on national defense. May 1 was suggested as a possible retirement date.

No one is being abruptly shunted out of the cabinet. Mr. Truman had some changes in mind when he was returned to office as president in his own right. His intention was to work them out gradually.

That both Forrestal and Royall would depart in the process has been expected here, and perhaps both about the same time.

Louis Johnson, of West Virginia, who was the financial savior of Mr. Truman's presidential campaign, is among those mentioned for the top national defense spot. But there is great opposition to Johnson, also.

Seek Aid In 'Gag' Fight

GOP Asked to Back Barkley

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Knowland (R) Cal., today asked the Senate GOP leadership to help break the southern filibuster against a proposed gag rule this week.

Knowland's plea will be carried into a closed-door session of the Republican Senate Policy committee this afternoon.

He wants Republican Senators to sustain a possible ruling by Vice President Barkley that the existing gag rule applies to the current filibuster. This would reverse former President Pro Tempore Vandenberg (R) Mich., and other previous presiding officers.

At the same time, Vandenberg asked his GOP colleagues to brush aside the question of whether they would be sustaining his 1948 ruling or reversing it by their votes. He said:

"I want Republicans to vote the way they think is right without any thought as to whether they are upholding me or Barkley."

Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., co-author of the gag rule change proposal, urged that the Policy committee lay the question before the full Senate conference.

Call Reveals Double-Death

LIMA —(AP)— Police received a telephone call from a man today:

"Come out to 511 Fairfield drive. I shot my wife."

At the address two detectives found Mr. and Mrs. Alta E. Benedum dead of a .22 rifle shot in the head.

Coroner T. J. Talbott said that Benedum, a retired oil refiners worker, apparently shot his wife, then killed himself.

Evidence indicated Mrs. Benedum was slain as she ate breakfast.

Blockade Russian Mission

U. S. Acts After Order Ignored

FRANKFURT — (UP) — American military police today set up a water-tight blockade around the house occupied by eight Russian members of a Soviet repatriation commission who said they couldn't leave the American zone as ordered until they heard from Moscow.

The Russians apparently settled down for a long siege in the luxurious red sandstone mansion that has served as their residence and office. Strains of accordion music were heard floating from the blockaded house.

German workmen shut off all water, gas, electricity and telephone service to the house by disconnecting wires and digging up mains. Eight American military police, each armed with a .45 caliber automatic pistol and a police club, patrolled the house under orders to let no one in or out.

The blockade was established shortly after 8 a. m. when the Russians ignored a deadline set for their departure. Several hours later Lt. Col. Andrie Lazarev, head of the Russian military mission in Frankfurt, drove to the mansion and tried to get in. Military police stoped him, he left quietly.

The Russians, four enlisted men and four officers, are members of an eight-man Soviet repatriation mission which was ordered out of the American zone of Germany by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

The mission's accreditation to the American zone expired at midnight Monday. The Russians refused to leave. Col. S. A. Wood, Frankfurt provost marshal, extended the deadline another 32 hours, until 8 a. m. today.

The Russians still were there when the deadline passed, refusing to leave on grounds they could be charged with treason if they abandoned their post without orders from Moscow.

23 Perish In Storms

(By Associated Press)

Temperatures moderated over the snow-covered northeastern section of the country today as the death toll in storms which swept the area mounted to 23.

Strong winds and cloudy skies kept temperatures well above zero over the New England sections where sub-zero readings had been forecast. The cold air centered north of Lake Ontario.

The deaths in the storm belt were attributed to over-exertion in the cold and snow. There were six deaths in Connecticut, which reported the heaviest fall in the New England area.

In some sections the falls measured as much as 25 inches. Six persons also died in Massachusetts, four each in New Jersey and New York, two in Rhode Island and one in Maine.

PERISHES IN FLAMES

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. —(AP)— One man was killed and three others injured in a fire which broke out in the top floor of the five story Harms hotel today.

FAREWELL TO OFFICER AND FRIEND—Members of Mansfield's police department stand with uncovered heads as the casket of their co-worker, Lt. William J. Taylor, is borne down the steps of the First English Lutheran church. The photo was taken yesterday afternoon just after final rites were spoken for the officer at the First English Lutheran church by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, standing in robe, left foreground, and Rev. Olan Aughbaugh, assistant pastor, right foreground. Lt. Taylor died last Saturday of wounds suffered when he attempted to disarm Robert Dilgard at Dilgard's home a week before. Dilgard was killed by Patrolman Carl Berry.

Tribute to a Fine Man

500 Attend Last Rites for Taylor

Lt. William J. Taylor, 39, the Mansfield policeman who lost his life in strict adherence to duty, was called a "fine policeman, a gentleman and a Christian" yesterday afternoon by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell at memorial services at the First Lutheran church.

Lt. Taylor died last Saturday noon from gunshot wounds suffered when he tried to disarm Robert Dilgard, gun-crazed veteran in his home at 321 East Fourth street on Friday afternoon, Feb. 18. Dilgard was later shot and killed by Patrolman Carl Berry.

Five hundred relatives and friends heard the words of tribute paid by Rev. Mitchell. Scores of floral pieces lined the front of the altar and extended to the sides of the chancel. A dozen others were placed in front of the choir loft.

Scripture for yesterday's service was read by Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor of the church, and Mrs. Clayson E. Bell was at the organ.

In his "in memoriam" to Lt. Taylor, Rev. Mitchell likened a good policeman to a shepherd who, like the Good Shepherd, protects his sheep.

"The community is a policeman's sheep. He protects it and the community is greatly dependent upon the men who guard the public from danger. If any one is bribed or intimidated or is careless with that wall of protection then the community suffers.

"Bill Taylor, who was my friend, was a good policeman, faithful and honest and courageous. Even in the hospital when his life hung on a thread, when I talked and prayed with him, he was the same, smiling and courageous.

WAS GENTLEMAN

"Secondly, he was a gentleman. Last night when the members of the police force placed white carnations in symbolic design on his casket, they were a symbol of Bill Taylor's life. It was a good life and to live the kind of a life he did cost him his life. Many would have shot first and asked questions afterwards, but he tried to take the gun first and in trying was shot himself.

"But most important of all he was a Christian. He stood here at the altar and confessed his faith. 'Let not your heart be troubled.' That great and precious promise was given for Bill Taylor, his wife and daughter and those who loved him."

As the casket stood before the altar of the church from noon until 3 p. m. yesterday, Lt. John E. Steel, and Patrol-

Beam Seeks Withdrawal

Council Candidate Appeals to Board

William B. Beam, of 1001 Park avenue west, today asked the Richland county board of elections to remove his name from the ballot as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Second ward councilman.

Withdrawal of Beam from the race will leave veteran Councilman Charles N. Shultz, unopposed for the Republican nomination in that ward.

Harry E. Colbow is unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the ward.

In a letter addressed to the board, Beam who is the son of Attorney Lydon H. Beam, said he didn't believe he would have sufficient time to conduct a campaign or devote to the office, if elected.

Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said he would present the letter to the board at its next meeting.

Young Beam, who recently started to work for his father in his law office, said:

"I find I would not have sufficient amount of time to properly conduct a campaign nor a sufficient amount of time, in my opinion, to devote to the office of councilman in case of my election."

Beam, who graduated from Harvard Law school, in January, has taken his Ohio bar examinations and is awaiting an answer within several weeks, his father said.

Farmer Pays $28,000 for French Gift

WICHITA, Kas.—(AP)—A Kansas farmer has paid $9,555.28 in income tax for two carloads of wheat he donated to the Friendship Train.

David C. White, a Kingsdown, Kas., farmer paid the tax yesterday, but said he was going to fight for a refund.

White and his attorney, W. D. Jochems, estimated the wheat gift actually cost him more than $28,000.

Two Admit Murdering Widow, Baby

Swindle, Kill Across Country

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. — (AP) — The law moved today against a mail order Romeo and his woman confederate in a ghastly story of a "lonely hearts" racket.

Three deaths—of two women and a small child—were in the background.

Facing murder charges were Raymond Martinez Fernandez, 34, and his girl friend, stocky Martha Beck, 29, thrice-married divorcee and mother of two children.

Prosecutor Roger C. McMahon said both had made "full confessions" and told freely of incorporating murder in an "easy money" fleecing of lonely women.

Bodies of the mother and daughter were dug out of cement-filled graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center yesterday.

Last night, working on information from Grand Rapids police, authorities in New York dug up the body of a woman in a South Ozone Park, Queens, cellar.

She was not immediately identified.

Here, however, Prosecutor McMahon said that Fernandez and Mrs. Beck declared the woman was their victim— a Mrs. Janet Fay—and that they had beaten and strangled her.

As recited by police, the Hawaiian - born Fernandez and black - haired Mrs. Beck, who weighs 200 pounds, gave a shocking story.

It led from the south, to the east, and the middlewest as the pair, posing as brother and sister, plundered unwitting women of thousands of dollars.

Marriages and promises of marriage from the glib Fernandez figured prominently in the account, McMahon said.

Fear of disclosure led them to kill Mrs. Downing and her daughter, bright-eyed Rainelle, McMahon said.

Mrs. Fay's death was the result of Mrs. Beck's "jealousy" of the New York woman, according to the prosecutor. First, however, they had secured $3,000 from her.

13 Groups Give 100%

A total of $1,112 was reported for the first day of the Red Cross campaign to raise $48,835 in Mansfield and Richland county, it was announced today by Glenn L. Bierly, campaign chairman.

Thirteen groups who gave 100 percent were reported for the first day. They include employes of the Elks club, Drumm Color Service, Dr. D. A. Weir's office, Nevah Ditwiler shop, Hien barber shop, Mansfield Welding company, Quality Shoe Service, Boliantz market, Dr. John T. Clark's office, Dr. R. B. Moyer's office, Dr. R. E. Girdles Globe In 94 Hours

Refueled In Mid-Air

FT. WORTH, Tex.—(INS) A giant United States Air Force B-50 bomber today completed the first non-stop around the world flight in history. The flight was made in 94 hours even.

The B-50, an improved version of the war-famed B-29 Superfortress, took off from Carswell Army air base at Fort Worth, Saturday, Feb. 26, at 12:21 P. M. (EST). It landed at the same base today at 10:21 A. M. (EST). The flight was eastbound.

A new mid-air re-fueling technique made the unprecedented flight possible. B-29 "tankers" were used to re-fuel the B-50 at four points of the trip.

The plane, with its 14 crew members, maintained an average air speed of more than 249 miles an hour for the 23,452 miles flown.

Air Secretary Symington and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of the air force, flew from Washington to greet the globe girdling airmen.

"LUCKY LADY"

Dubbed the "Lucky Lady, the Second," the history making plane was commanded by Capt. James Gallagher of Melrose, Minn.

The previous world non-stop flight record was 11,235 miles, established by a Navy P-2-V during a flight in 1946 from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio.

The Lucky Lady the Second flew only 1,500 miles less than the circumference of the earth.

The three most recent round the world flights, all made with several stops for fueling, covered only about 24,000 miles. Capt. Bill Odom was the last to turn the trick in the Reynolds Bomb Shell.

Previously Odom and Milton Reynolds, fountain pen magnate, accomplished the feat. Some years before their flight Howard Hughes made a similar flight.

The Lucky Lady's crew were fatigued but in good physical condition at the end of their gruelling ordeal.

Two tankers were used in each refueling. The gasoline transfers were made over the Azores, Saudi Arabia, the Philippine Islands and the Hawaiian Islands.

The Lucky Lady's historic flight, held as a closely guarded secret until this morning, came just 25 years after the first round the world "air tour" was made by the air force. In 1924 a number of Liberty 400 bombers left Seattle and flew 26,345 miles.

It took the fliers 175 days and won the Collyer trophy for the air force.

The air force classified the Lucky Lady's flight as a "training mission." A spokesman said it was "part of a continuing program of in-flight re-fueling training flights which will be flown to all parts of the world."

Three co-ordinating officers were stationed at each of the refueling points. The bomber radioed hourly position reports.

The B-50 bomber is built by Boeing Aircraft company in Seattle. It mounts four Pratt and Whitney engines, each of three thousand horsepower. It has a top speed of 400 miles per hour, and can carry a 10,000 pound bomb load for 6,000 miles.

The air force has ordered 390 of the planes.

Prayers Fail, Cancer Claims Little Child

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — The miracle her parents prayed for failed to occur, and twenty-month-old Pat Lightner died today of cancer.

The Power Point, O., girl written off as "incurably ill" by doctors, finally succumbed to the disease in Pittsburgh where she had been undergoing treatment at the Drosnes-Lazenby cancer clinic.

Pat first became ill last summer. She was taken to the Cleveland clinic where her ailment was diagnosed as a tumor on the kidney.

Her kidney was removed last September, and the girl was believed on the road to recovery. A month ago, the ailment reappeared and doctors gave up hope for the girl.

Solemn Preparation for Easter

Special Church Services Mark Opening of Lent

The season of solemn preparation for religious observance of the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ, begins today with prayer and meditation in Mansfield churches.

In both St. Peter's Catholic church and the Grace Episcopal those services began early this morning with mass and holy communion. At St. Peter's the usual masses were said but at 8:15 a. m. there was the blessing and distribution of ashes in a solemn high mass. At 7:30 p. m. today there will be a Lenten sermon and benediction and ashes will again be distributed.

Services at Grace Episcopal were to continue throughout the day beginning at 7 a. m. and again at 10 a. m., 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Following the 8 p. m. worship there will be an hour of fellowship in the undercroft.

For most Protestant churches there will be evening services today at 7:30 p. m. with appropriate sermons and music and recognition of the Christian solemnity of the occasion.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell preaches at the First Lutheran on the theme, "A Man of God."

Rev. John C. Melchert at the St. John's church at 7:45 p. m. will talk on the first of the "Seven Last Words of Christ."

For his sermon tonight, Dr. Herbert S. Garnes has chosen the subject, "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By." "The Ashes of Repentance" will be the topic of the sermon by Dr. Charles F. Sheriff at St. Matthew's Lutheran church and at St. Mark's Lutheran, Rev. C. A. Portz will begin the discussion of "Great Hymns of Lent."

Holy communion will be administered by Rev. John G. Gensel at the St. Paul Lutheran church and he will speak on "The Lord's Prayer."

Two churches of the city, at least, will observe the beginning of Lent tomorrow night. Dr. W. M. Taylor at the Park Avenue Baptist will preach at 7:30 on the first phase of the subject, "That All May Know With Better Understanding."

Rev. Willard J. Shawk, at the Main Street Evangelical UB church, will present Rev. E. E. Nietz tomorrow night. Rev. Nietz, conference superintendent, will give a Lenter meditation, then conduct the quarterly conference.

Oleo Bill 'Hot Potato' Comes Up for Vote In State Senate

Unification Act Passes Group, 30-0

Conservationists Express Approval

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Urban and rural forces chose sides today for the Ohio Senate battle to decide who shall color oleo—housewives or manufacturers.

The Democratic leadership called up the controversial bill for a vote after delaying a test for a day to build up strength.

Regarded as one of the session's legislative "hot potatoes," the bill underwent stormy committee hearings. Ruralites demanded no competition from colored oleo for the butter industry. Urbanites said housewives were tired of coloring oleo and wanted to buy it tinted.

A similar measure passed the Senate last session but ran into a rural roadblock in the house. It might do so again.

The present proposal was initiated by petition. Oleo manufacturing interests obtained nearly 200,000 signatures to place the bill before the legislature.

Should the General assembly defeat or change it to the dislike of sponsors, they can bring it before voters at the November election by getting another batch of signatures.

The Senate passed without opposition yesterday another bill which formerly ran afoul of heavy forensic weather.

The measure seeks to unify the state's conservation activities under a single department of natural resources. The vote was 30 to 0.

It would create department divisions of lands, water, forestry, wildlife, parks, geological survey and beach erosion.

They would be under a director appointed for six years by the governor, subject to senate confirmation. An advisory board of seven members and Ohio State university's dean of agriculture also would be named.

Sportsmen during the past two sessions fought to make the wildlife division in any new department independent of the director of natural resources.

They wanted the present conservation division transplanted bodily into the new department. It would become the wildlife division but its chief would be named by the Conservation commission.

Under the Senate-passed bill, the wildlife division would operate the same as the other divisions and be subject to the same controls.

Fight Could Lose Truman Much Power

In the struggle which President Truman has chosen to precipitate in the Eighty-First Congress much more is at stake than whether all his campaign promises can be carried out right away. There is at stake the power of the government to manage the recession in business.

There is a very considerable risk that in his effort to break down the opposition and obstruction to his legislative program, he will lose control—to all kinds of pressure groups and special interests—over the very delicate and difficult business of deciding how far to permit the disinflation to run and when to intervene so as to prevent a severe depression.

The present recession would almost certainly have come sooner and have been less severe had the Eightieth Congress not insisted on reducing taxes before election. For if the higher taxes had been retained, the inflation would have been checked sooner—the rise in prices would not have been so great and the decline would not now have to be so big, and so costly to those who must liquidate.

If the tax reduction had not been applied when the boom was booming, it could now be applied in order to moderate the recession.

This illustrates the problem: It shows how in the Eightieth Congress, which the President could not control, an opportunity was lost to manage the economy. The Congress insisted on more inflation at a time when the best interests of the country called for a moderate and relatively painless policy of disinflation.

Now the disinflation, which was postponed, is taking place. There are unmistakable signs that the people cannot or will not buy all the goods produced at the higher prices, and that therefore prices must fall if demand and supply are to come into balance again. This is the "healthy readjustment" that everyone is talking about.

Obviously it needs very careful watching.

For while prices ought still to come down, they ought not to be pushed down suddenly and brutally, as they would be by raising taxes now or by imposing additional restrictions on credit.

The main need is, therefore, to wait, but fully alerted—not to aggravate the disinflation and yet not to arrest it too soon—and to be ready to act when prices are in better balance but before unemployment has become larger than is unavoidable in the liquidation that is inevitable.

That point would probably be reached when the cost of living had come down say ten per cent and unemployment was approaching say seven per cent.

Exactness and perfect certainty in matters of this kind are impossible. But statesmen have to have some practical working rule, and these figures are, in the judgment of those I think best qualified to judge, a reasonable measure.

The success of such a policy would obviously be gravely jeopardized if Congress gets out of control. That this is just what may happen is illustrated by Congressman Rankin's bill to provide pensions for the veterans of all our wars, and for their widows as well.

The significance of this measure can only be appreciated in the light of the decisions of the Truman Democrats to amend the rules of the House and of the Senate in order to remove the Obstruction to the Truman program. Because they do not want to be obstructed by the Rules Committee in the House and by Filibusters in the Senate, they have struck down the Rules Committee and they are attacking the Filibuster. Their object, of course, is to make it possible for the Democratic majority to carry out the Truman legislative program.

But Rankin's bill is a shrewd and malign maneuver, designed not merely to buy the votes of veterans but to demonstrate that if the power to obstruct is removed, it will not necessarily be only the Truman Democrats who will have their way. The first beneficiaries of the new legislative freedom are to be not the Truman Democrats but the Rankin demagogues.

This Funny World . . . .

Explorer Sees U. S. Losing Arctic

By JOE WING

NEW YORK — (AP) — Is Russia winning the race to the Arctic?

"There isn't any race," said white-maned Vilhjalmur Stefansson grimly, "When one side doesn't run."

It isn't Russia, he made clear, that has failed to run.

The famed explorer and Arctic authority was interviewed in his Greenwich village study, just off the 32,000 - item library where with ten helpers and navy department funds he is putting together a five million - word Arctic encyclopedia.

"Progress north in the Soviet is comparable to that in our 'west a hundred years ago," he went on.

"We in Alaska are not advancing except through military activity. Canada is making almost infinitesimal progress."

The reason?

Keeping up with the Joneses!

Stefansson, of Viking ancestry himself, advanced the theory that Americans have lost the pioneer's readiness to live on the land—to hunt game for food, then to grow crops for his own use, make his own clothes and get along by himself.

Instead, the modern settler wants to grow a cash crop so he can buy food with trimmings. Then the little woman can set the table with magazine - approved meals, like her friends.

Russians have no such ideas.

The result—a burgeoning population of a half million in the Siberian Arctic, doing farming, mining, lumbering and shipping. In the Canadian north and Alaska, only 100,000.

Is there a chance that America can catch up?

Yes, said Stefansson—if America really wants to. There are three ways:

VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON

We could grant a monopoly to some big development company. We could do it with large scale cooperatives. Or we could go in for outright socialistic development. But we will have none of these.

"So we are letting the race go by default," he concluded.

Stefansson was elaborating on a theme from the opening chapter of "New Compass of the World," a symposium on political geography to be published March 22 by MacMillan. Stefansson helped edit as well as contribute to the volume. In it he notes that to American men the Arctic spells adventure; that to Russian men and women, it spells opportunity and a way of life.

To his black - haired, good looking wife and to other associates on his staff, Stefansson is "Steff."

A big man nearly 70 years old with weathered hands as befits one who has spent 13 summers and 10 winters in the Friendly Arctic," as he calls it, he gave up leading expeditions long since because he "wasn't very good at raising funds."

He turned instead to writing and lecturing. He has written 18 books of his own. Behind his desk is a labeled "vanity shelf" on which repose books by others with good things in them about him.

Back in 1936 he received his first army funds for getting together data on the Arctic. Right through the war he continued this work for the armed services. Not until 1952 does he expect to see published the monumental encyclopedia on which he is now working.

Bones Found At Bucyrus Fire Scene

Farm Home Blaze Fatal to Widow, 77

BUCYRUS—Remains of Mrs. Virdie Leitzy, 77, were found late Tuesday in the debris of her fire-destroyed home, west of here, by Deputy Sheriff E. F. Jacobs.

Deputy Jacobs called Crawford county Coroner O. R. Kackley of Galion upon finding a portion of a skull and several neck bones. Coroner Kackley, a Galion physician, identified the charred bones as those of a human.

Both Dr. Kackley and Deputy Sheriff said they were positive Mrs. Leitzy, who lived alone in the large frame house, had perished in the fire. A verdict of accidental death was returned by Coroner Kackley.

The bones were found in basement underneath the kitchen and authorities theorized Mrs. Leitzy had started a fire in a coal range in the kitchen and that sparks from the range might have been the cause of the blaze.

The fire was discovered early Tuesday morning by passing motorists and neighbors. Mrs. John Kottyan and her son, Joseph, neighbors, broke into the house but were driven back by smoke and flames. The house was completely destroyed as were a smoke house and garage.

Mrs. Leitzy had no known close relatives. Her husband, Joseph, died several years ago and they had no children.

2 Speeders Forfeit $50

Two men arrested for speeding forfeited bonds of $25 each when they failed to appear in municipal court this morning.

The two men, Sol Davidson, Indianapolis, Ind., and Clayton W. Scharkey, Lakewood, were arrested for exceeding the speed limit on U. S. Route 42, near Mansfield, by state highway patrolmen.

Charles Wilson, 216 North Columbus street, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way, and was fined $15 and costs by Judge H. H. Schettler.

Wilson was involved in an automobile collision on Feb. 27 at the intersection of Cline avenue and Wood street. His car collided with one driven by Edward R. Zedikler, 201½ East Second street.

Hallowed Flower of India Tops Collection In Willard

By GEORGIA WOLFE
N-J State Correspondent

WILLARD—The most prized collection in the plants and flowers at the home of Mrs. J. R. Mosey, of 528 West Pearl street, is a sacred lily of India which this year attained a height of 54 inches. It has grown as high as six feet in the 15 years it has been in her possession.

Is is the hallowed flower of India and more commonly known as the "snake plant" because the stem looks like a water snake. The flower has an offensive odor when in bloom and appears only in February.

The flower is shaped like a calla lily and colored from a light red to garnet, the lower part of which is flecked with a bright yellow. The exceptionally long pistil is a lavender color. It remains in bloom about four days and averages 10 inches in diameter.

In May, or shortly after the frost leaves the ground, the large bulb is placed outside in the ground and the stem grows to a height of two feet before the leaves branch out in an umbrella (or palm) effect two feet in diameter.

The bulb is brought into the house in the winter and stored in a dark place, without ground or water or nourishment of any kind, where it is kept until the stem shows evidence of growth around the first part of February.

It then is placed in the light where it grows an average of two and one half inches every 24 hours.

Stock Market Takes Slight Drop In Indecisive Trading

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market wobbled a little lower today after early indecision.

Selling pressure was not severe ,though, and prices quickly leveled off at declines of fractions to a point or so. A substantial number of stocks either held unchanged or even moved up a trifle.

Turnover was slow.

One unusually large transaction was reported from the floor of the exchange. A bloc of 10,000 shares of Western Air Lines was sold at 5½, a decline of ¼ points. The stock later recovered and moved up a notch or two.

Await Bingo Game Report

Whether DAV Chapter 112 will be permitted to operate a bingo game in the new Frankel building remained a question today after Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab examined some of the organization's books and talked to its commander.

Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, who blocked plans for the bingo game until it is certain the DAV operation will be within state laws, said the matter would be decided by the chief of police.

The chief said today he examined some of the organization's books. He said his investigation would be completed in a couple of days.

Garrison previously had said the DAV would not be allowed to runs its bingo game until it is determined proceeds from the game will be used for charity as required by law.

Moton Smith sr., commander of the DAV post, took some of the organization's books and its charter to Chief Schwab's office this morning.

Lenten Season Opens With Prayer

AS TODAY marks the start of the solemn season of Lent it is fitting that this be observed as a week of prayer, in which the peoples of all faiths can unite, with Friday designated as the World Day of Prayer.

While Lent is a period set aside by adherents to the Christian religion, with millions joining in its observance, the present challenge is not only to Christianity but to all religions which hold belief in a Supreme Being.

The special emphasis on religion which marks Lenten observance has special timeliness just now, as fears, suspicion and uncertainty beset the world and when many people find in prayer the comfort and strength needed to meet difficult situations.

Chief among aspirations at this time is that permanent peace shall be established throughout the world, and it is upon this theme that many prayers will be said.

Plans for Friday are that women around the world will join in prayers for divine guidance. As the day begins in the Fiji Islands, the chorus will rise heavenward, continuing westward around the earth until the sun sets in the Pacific. Women of 74 nations are expected to take part.

The Passing of James M. Dickson

IN THE DEATH of James M. Dickson this community loses another of its native sons whose entire lifetime was spent in the home-town surroundings which he loved so well and to which he added many touches of beauty as a result of his keen interest in floriculture and by his development of the Dickson gardens, just across the street from his home.

For a number of years, until failing health prevented, Mr. Dickson gave devoted attention to the growing of a great variety of flowers and shrubbery in his gardens, which were opened to the public and which attracted many visitors from out of the city as well as residents of Mansfield and vicinity.

His example also served as an inspiration to others, with the result that innumerable home surroundings have been beautified through the influence of a visit to the Dickson gardens.

Growth of Woodland from farmland into an attractive residential area came about largely through the foresight and initiative of Mr. Dickson, and he fortunately lived to enjoy the realization of a dream that visioned the growth of Mansfield far beyond the limits which met the needs of an earlier period.

Ill health during recent years placed Mr. Dickson in semi-retirement, so it is only among older residents that he is remembered as active in business, financial and social circles—but Woodland will continue as a lasting memorial to him, and it would be a fine thing if a way could be found to re-establish and maintain the Dickson gardens as a reminder of his chief source of enjoyment.

Let's Watch Marion and Alliance

MANSFIELDERS are unlikely to be seriously impressed by reports of gambling raids in Marion and Alliance. They are accustomed to such things, on the basis of local experience, and are inclined to regard them as no more than a flurry, rather than as an indication of administration and police department intention to permanently ban illegal gambling operations.

It was just a year ago that Mansfield was in the midst of a two-month shut-down of commercialized gambling, by order of Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab, with sanction by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

Then, on April 1 the lid was lifted and the customary forms of unlawful gambling permitted to return—bookie joint and all.

Unless the expressed attitude of Governor Frank J. Lausche against gambling operations in the state has influenced action in Marion and Alliance, it seems unlikely that the clamp-down in those cities will be any more permanent than it was here.

The pressure by those who profit by operating gambling rackets of various sorts is apparently stronger than is exerted by those who believe that state and city anti-gambling laws should be enforced.

Laws In Plain Language Proposed

REMARKABLE ideas sometimes invade state legislatures.

A representative in the Ohio body has introduced a resolution providing that henceforth all statutes should be phrased in simple, easily understood language. Why hasn't someone thought of this before?

There must be some reason, however, why laws are written in such complicated language. Possibly legislators don't want everyone to understand them.

What Is Russia Concealing?

"TRAVELING in the Soviet Union is completely forbidden to haters of the U.S.S.R." This is the Russian policy as described by Semyon K. Tsarapkin, Russian delegate to the United Nations economic and social council.

Most people will be of the opinion that any nation striving so hard to conceal conditions in its home territory must have something decidedly enlightening to hide, and the chances are that it is discreditable.

Harry Wade makes near approach to the limit in punning when he comments that Truman's embarrassments "have piled up vaughan by vaughan."

So it was all a "joke" about a Mansfield man becoming engaged to a film actress—laughable, wasn't it?

Southern Trip Suggested

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—If President Truman hits the road again and mounts the back platform to give the Democratic 81st Congress the same "what for" that he gave the Republican 80th a few months ago, as he threatened in his Jackson-Jefferson dinner speech, it would be only logical for him to head his special train due South and spend most of his time there.

Since his own party is in control of Congress now, his complaints lie against it.

And, in looking at his party and analyzing it, he will find what he already knows too well, which is that his troubles come from a block of southerners who still refuse to follow him on some important parts of his program.

He recognized his party's dilemma publicly when, in referring to the split in the Republican party that has been so widely advertised since the election, he reminded his Jackson-Jefferson dinner audience with a grin that there is a split in his party, too, which we all remember was so widely advertised before the election.

The split-off of southerners on some issues in Congress, economic and social as well as civil rights, immediately transforms the Democratic party there into a minority party, which is an old, old story told many times in the long years of Democratic control before the brief interruption in the Republican 80th Congress.

If the party were united today it could move ahead fairly easily on most of the President's program, as it has a safe majority in congress. Republicans welcome the bolting southern Democrats into their own camp, and you can't blame them if you accept the facts of politics, for politicians continue to practice politics despite everything.

So President Truman's quarrel is largely with the southern Democratic bolters. His job, then, is to go about among the people of the South and build a back-fire among them, if possible, against the small but effective southern rump party. He would need to go on further on his trip if he got results there, and he would by no means need total conversion.

* * *

Advantages Cited.

A SOUTHERN trip would be a gracious gesture that might pay dividends. The President should go all over the South and talk with the people. So many of them never have seen him.

In his frank and friendly manner he could dispel some impressions about him in the South which, as this reporter found on a trip there just before the election, add up to create a figure that is as different from Harry Truman as day from night. It's not the same fellow at all.

He would discover a great many people in the South, as he found on his campaign trips elsewhere, who are enthusiastic supporters of his economic and social program because of the improvement that has come to them in so many ways from the Roosevelt program which he hopes to continue and expand.

He would find, too, more people than might be suspected who will go a good part of the way with him on his civil rights program.

There is a quiet revolution going on in the South, despite the Thurmonds, the Talmadges, and the Rankins.

A frank discussion of the civil rights program would reveal his sincerity and, while many would continue to disagree with him, he would start a healthy debate on premises clearly stated by him in person from which much good eventually might come.

Both President Truman and the South could benefit from meeting and knowing each other.

Washington Calling

That Mysterious Report

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Far from being cleared up, the mystery surrounding the Japanese spy report grows deeper and darker. It is now in the stage of denials from all hands.

That is not enough. Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama and others in Congress who were stirred by this strange document to demand an investigation should follow through. A thorough inquiry by a Senate or a House committee is in order.

Col. George S. Eyster, deputy chief of the Army public information division, has said that release of the report was a "faux pas." In my dictionary, faux pas is defined as "an error, a slip, especially a breach of good breeding."

Most Americans will feel that release of the report was a lot more than that. For the first time, so far as the record shows. A military branch of the government saw fit to denounce an American citizen as a spy of a foreign power and without any proof to support the charge.

In Tokyo, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, chief United States intelligence officer in the Far East, has admitted full responsibility for the "secret" report but has denied releasing it or even suggesting that it be released. Quite properly, he points out that it was a secret intelligence report intended for military personnel.

Even considered in this light, However, there are curious features of the document, which is based for the most part on the statements of convicted Soviet spies as related in Tokyo police files. In the first place the report, contrary to accepted intelligence practice, editorializes about high government policy in China, implying that U. S. policy-makers were duped. The report also contains the kind of flashy touches one would expect in the script of a B movie.

In any thorough inquiry, more should be known about Gen. Willoughby, who has had a distinguished career in the Army. He came from Germany at the age of 18, the son of Daron T. Von Tscheppe-Weidenbach and an American mother, Emmy Willoughby, and enlisted in the regular army. In 1918 he had his name legally changed to Willoughby. He has written several authoritative books used as texts by the Army at various training levels.

How Is Policy Made?

AN INVESTIGATION broadened to cover occupation policy in Japan would be extremely useful at this time. Most people, including many officials here in Washington, are not at all clear as to how Japanese policy is made. Is it made by Gen MacArthur personally? By the Army? By the state department?

In the last Japanese election the communists tripled their strength, the reactionary right wing party gained a majority and the middle parties, considered the hope of democratic government in Japan, lost heavily. MacArthur hailed this outcome as a triumph for conservatism.

Few figures in American life have ever been as complex, as puzzling, as remote from the ordinary currents of debate and controversy as the general who rules over 80,000,000 Japanese.

He has been accused of setting up a satrapy and fixing his own policy which today, it is charged, aims at creating in Japan a base for making war on Russian communism.

MacArthur's admirers are fervent to the point of idolatry, taking his purple prose as gospel. In his fair and careful book, "MacArthur's Japan," Russell Brines of the associated press tells how the general's aides in Japan try to shelter him from unpleasant news. The picture is of a man living in a world pretty well removed from the clashes and conflicts of actuality both in Japan and this country.

Truman Twists Well-Meant Suggestion

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Only the President's inside advisers know it, but he gave a decidedly different twist to the idea they originally put up to him of stumping the country.

Some of Mr. Truman's loyal friends had suggested to him, shortly before the Jackson-Jefferson dinner, that he go on a tour of the nation in order to keep his contacts with the people, not to rap Congress.

They were frankly afraid that Truman, sitting in the rarefied atmosphere of Washington and surrounded by too many yes-men, was losing his perspective. So it was suggested that instead of going to Key West for a vacation, the President go on a trip through the West perhaps to visit some water-power project or the snowbound areas.

Mr. Truman, however, declined to give up his Key West outing, though he had spent two weeks there shortly before Christmas. And at the Jackson-Jefferson dinner, he twisted the original idea around so that his proposed trip becomes a campaign tour against Congress—despite the fact that the present Congress is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Security For Servants.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S program to extend federal old-age insurance to an additional 20,000,000 persons will not slide through the House ways and means committee as easily as did the bill to extend reciprocal-trade agreements.

Although Chairman "Muley Bob" Doughton of North Carolina agreed to introduce the administration bills on social security, he explicitly did so only "as the basis for consideration and discussion."

When current hearings have been completed, the committee will then sit down in executive session to write its own bill, which will probably bear little resemblance to the Truman proposals.

For example, the President includes 5 million farmers, 3.5 million hired hands, and 2.5 million cooks, maids and other household servants in the 20,000,000 total to be covered.

Yet members of Congress from rural areas, among them Speaker Sam Rayburn, are convinced that farmers are opposed to social security. And the prospect of a rebellion from an army of irate housewives, compelled to pay and collect employment taxes on their hired help, makes even the congressmen from the cities shudder a bit.

Actually, compliance with the simplified plans for collecting social security taxes from farmers and housewives would be relatively easy, but the country doesn't think so.

* * *

Old Age Benefits.

ON THE other hand, increasing social security benefits will definitely be approved. However, Congress will throw out the benefit payments for both sickness of short duaration (up to 26 weeks) and for extended disability. Too many people, the congressmen think, would get sick on purpose.

In addition, old-age retirement for women will probably be reduced from 65 to 60 and a beneficiary will be allowed to earn up to $50 (now $15) per month without losing the right to his government pension check.

* * *

Bureaucrats Dug Snow.

THE ARMY did a great job in feeding snowbound civilians and cattle during western storms, but other civilian agencies did equal pioneering jobs with no credit at all—the interior department's bureau of land management and the agriculture department's forest service.

Inside fact is that the land bureau proceeded with rescue work at a time when the Army at first refused to budge.

What happened was that on January 12, Paul L. Fickenger, regional director of the Indian service at Billings, Mont., telephoned Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, Army district engineer at Omaha on January 12, asking the Army for assistance. General Pick, one of the highest officers in the engineers corps and already nominated as chief of engineers, refused to budge.

He said he was most sympathetic with any plan to help snowbound people and cattle, but he had no authority to act. Also he said he had no funds allocated for this purpose.

Meanwhile, the bureau of land management also lacked funds or authority. Without waiting for word from Washington, however, its officials proceeded to spend money anyway. Figuring that Washington would reimburse them later, they worked round the clock with no figuring in of overtime.

Taking a chance that Washington later would pay the bill they contracted for snow-removal equipment, etc., which were not authorized. Later, the money came through. But it was the so-called civilian bureaucrats who had the courage to act when the army hesitated.

* * *

Civil Rights For Housing.

WRY - WITTED Sen. Ralph Flanders, Vermont Republican, has introduced a new term—"horse shedding"—into the dignified process of lawmaking.

During a closed-door huddle over the housing bill, Flanders suggested that they get down to "horse shedding." This he explained is a New England term for gathering in the horse shed when a controversy gets deadlocked, and doing some horse-trading on both sides.

The Democratic senators snapped up Flanders' suggestion and spent the rest of the afternoon "horse shedding." By give and take, they patched together a strong housing bill acceptable to the majority of both Democrats and Republicans.

The only holdouts were the never-say-budge friends of the real-estate lobby, Republican Sen. Harry Cain of Washington and John Bricker of Ohio.

At one point, Bricker warned he would try to amend the housing bill on the Senate floor to require a nonsegregation policy wherever public housing is built. Bricker didn't say so, but it was quite obvious he had in mind wrecking the housing program by arousing a northern battle over civil rights.

All of which caused one Democratic senator to whisper: "Cain and Bricker want to eliminate discrimination all right—by giving nobody homes."

Contributions Came Fast

By INEZ ROBB

TEXAS CITY, Texas — Time mercifully heals many wounds. Wounds suffered by this small city on April 16, 1947, in the explosions of the nitrate-laden freighters, Grand Camp and High Flyer.

It is even better to report that the world, which sometimes looks mighty mean and ornery to the bystander, has played a considerable part in the healing process.

The world and his wife voluntarily reached for their purses when it learned that the horrendous explosion had left 522 dead, an unknown number (probably 100) missing, and thousands injured in this little city of 20,000.

Within hours after the extent of the blast was known, money began to pour into Texas City by telegraph and later by mail. Money came from all over the United States and from every corner of the world, even from Australia and Japan.

The town fathers, overwhelmed by this evidence of man's humanity to man in crisis, appointed a committee to handle the fund. Carl Nessler, banker, business man and mayor of Texas City for 18 years, was appointed chairman.

Nessler, a kind man who gives most of his time now to administration of the fund, says the Texas City disaster relief committee still has $400,000 of the $1,083,000 sent for the city's benefit.

His stewardship of the fund, which came in pennies sent by children and $50,000 chunks from local corporations, has been directed by both heart and head.

* * *

Carefully Handled.

NESSLER said that the great blessing conferred by the fund was that it enabled the town to give relief "on a home rather than an institutional basis."

After almost two years, there are still 180 cases on maintenance. These the fund cares for, in addition to 90 major medical cases still on the rolls.

These cases, both medical and maintenance, do not include the many similar cases being cared for by such large corporations as Monsanto Chemical company, scores of whose employes were killed and injured and whose $20,000,000 plant was levelled.

The great companies here have cared for their own people zealously and well. Texas City is no place in which to curse "the soulless corporation."

The Texas City disaster relief committee has cared for those who were injured, widowed and orphaned who had no connection with any of the great oil or chemical plants on the periphery of the town.

It is difficult to learn just how many persons are still invalided or under medical care since many are being more than adequately cared for outside the committee's bounds.

Nessler estimates that the committee is now disbursing $18,000 per month for medical care and for maintenance. The maintenance cares are preponderantly widows with children too young to allow the mother to seek work.

"There are a few badly injured persons who will have to be cared for as long as they live," Nessler said. "There are some widows with little children who will have to have help as long as the fund lasts."

With careful administration, Nessler believes the fund will last another two years. By that time, he hopes some of the widows will be able to help maintain themselves and their families, and that some of the major medical cases will be ended.

"But there will be some who will have to be looked after for a long time," Nessler added. "Other agencies will have to take over when our funds are gone."

But in the meantime, the community is increasingly grateful that the kindness of thousands of unknown sympathizers has enabled it to take care of its own in decent and humane fashion.

Dave Boone Says:

JUDGE MEDINA, after almost two months of argument over the matter of a jury that will be satisfactory to those 11 communists on trial in New York, has announced the trial must start by March 7. That's assuming the defendants can stand being hurried.

* * *

It may be necessary to re-photograph 'em all in order to identify 'em positively as the same fellows who were there away back when the proceeding began.

* * *

But over in Bulgaria there are no delays in court cases. Fifteen more clergymen are being rushed to trial in the Kremlin pattern—and, if anything further was needed to make the pattern phony, it's the published "confessions" in which a minister not only admits everything but delivers a testimonial to the secret police, declaring them a fine agency for good citizenship and a very gentle crew who always treated him with the utmost kindness.

* * *

The "confessions" blame everything on America. American literature and American agents. No credit lines are given for the producers of the drugs, the bullwhips, the blackjacks and the torture chambers.

Timely Editorial

Delinquency Decline.

American youngsters are better behaved than they have been for 10 years. National figures show that juvenile delinquency declined 10 to 15 per cent in 1948 over previous years. If this improvement contiues the 1949 juvenile delinquency rate is expected to drop 30 per cent below the average for the last 10 years.

This is conclusive evidence that intensive efforts to guide and help young people, especially during the disturbed war years, has had most beneficial effects. Throughout the nation, individuals and communities recognized the problem and then moved to do something about it. These programs are getting results.— Akron Beacon Journal.

FOREIGN STUDENTS GIVE PROGRAM TO CHAPTER

AAUW Hears Round Table Discussion On "Education" at Dinner Meeting at Pavilion.

"EDUCATION—National and International" was the topic for the program at the Mansfield branch of the American Association of University Women's meeting last evening at Liberty park pavilion. Miss Frances Randall introduced foreign students from Ohio Wesleyan university who spoke on this subject.

Each student told something of the primary and secondary school system used in his or her country. This included the length of time spent in each school, the system of examination used and whether or not education was free and compulsory.

Their talks also pertained to the colleges and universities in the country they are from and the way in which a degree is obtained. The third phase of their discussion dealt with the cultural opportunities and opportunities for adult education. Comments were made concerning movies, radio and the press. They closed by giving the outstanding impressions concerning America and American people.

Miss Alice Tretts of the board of admissions at Wesleyan, brought the sctudents to Mansfield for this roundtable discussion. At the conclusion of the program, she addressed the members briefly.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel. —Adv.

Mansfielder's Daughter Tells Of Trip to New Zealand Home

By JOAN SCHWEITZ

AN INTERESTING LETTER has been received by D. C. Donley, 1321 Park avenue west road, regarding the experiences of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dennis, who are now residing in New Zealand. Mr. Dennis is serving as attache to the United States embassy.

Mrs. Dennis has described some of the sights she saw and the things she did on her trip to New Zealand, in a letter to her father.

They docked at Suva, Fiji, as their first stop. They had boarded the ship at Vancouver, British Colombia. After watching the Fiji natives from the ship's railing, they went ashore. The heat was unbearable she said and everywhere they went was the smell of copra, a rancid cocanut smell. They bought some tortoise shell jewelry and a grass skirt for their little daughter.

Mrs. Dennis reports that the natives have wild kinky hair and the islands are populated with as many Indians as Fijis, and a great many Chinese. The arrival of the ship was a great event. Natives swarmed all over the decks the whole time the ship was in port and entire native families came down to settle on the dock all night to watch it.

The Dennis family finally arrived in Auckland, New Zealand, where they were met by a member of the embassy staff. There they boarded a plane for Wellington, where the U. S. Embassy is located.

Now, after all the sights they have seen and the distance they have travelled to another continent, the Dennis family is facing the same problem they would have faced in any city in the United States, for the housing problem exists in Wellington, New Zealand, just as it does in Mansfield, Ohio.

But they have managed to rent a furnished house for the next seven months and will worry about finding another, when the time comes to move.

Mrs. Hissong to Speak At AAUW

BUCYRUS — Guest speaker at the monthly meeting tonight of the local chapter of the American Association of University Women will be Mrs. Clyde Hissong, wife of the state director of education. The meeting will be held at the King's Daughters' Chapter house here.

Mrs. Hissong, a former English professor at Bowling Green State University, will speak on trends in post-war literature.

The program will be in charge of Miss Ella Meck, Bucyrus High school teacher. Hostesses will include Mrs. E. G. Pfleiderer, chairman, Miss Aileen Philein, Dr. Clara Schieber and Miss Juanita Renkert.

RAINBOW INITIATION

The Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly No. 32, will hold initiation tonight at 7 o'clock in the K. of P. hall with the worthy advisor, Miss Marilyn Staup, presiding.

Next time you make a tapioca cream pudding vary it by adding some sliced softened or cooked figs. The grated rind of a lemon may also be added to the pudding for flavor.

Auxiliary Meets At Weimer Home

Eight members were present at the meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the Typographical Union last evening at the home of Mrs. H. P. Weimer, 548 Wood street. One guest was present.

Cards were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Mrs. J. P. Gills, Mrs. E. P. Cusic and Mrs. Emma Fisher. The club prizes was awarded to Mrs. Gills. Refreshments were served by the hostess at a late hour.

Mrs. P. M. Wragg, 54 Sherman avenue, will be the next hostess, April 5.

Horoscope

For Thurs March 3

While there may be a sudden and entirely unplanned event, or reversal from critical into constructive lines, yet if this "windfall" should drift in the wrong direction there might be a miscarriage of well directed energies or techniques, involving the progressive and productive developments of desired objectives. Finds, credit, reputation and intimate domestic or social relations might suffer. Take time out for reason and shun erratic or eccentric urges, or drives. Rationalize before acting.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, while being encouraged by an unforeseen and quite unpredictable set of circumstances promising the progressive and opulent fulfillment of high aspirations and ambitions, might circumvent their best interests by extravagant, indulgent, rash or illogical moves, endangering prestige, possessions and social or domestic happiness and gratifications. While novelty and originality, ingenuity and brilliant ideas may have spectacular culminations, yet such would be placed in jeopardy by false moves or emotional indulgences. Put brakes on firmly.

A child born on this day, while ambitious and richly endowed with ingenuity, skills and talents out of the ordinary, may be found "holding the bag" eventually by its own personal indulgences or misjudgments.

Sorority to Give Treatment to Pupils

SHELBY — Plans have been made by the Beta Sigma Phi sorority for a free topical flouride treatment to be given to pupils in the first six grades of the Shelby schools. The treatment endorsed by the U. S. Public Health Association and the American Dental Association lessens tooth decay action from 40 to 50 per cent.

All parents will receive letters concerning the treatment and no child will be eligible unless the parents request that the treatment be given. The flouride treatment is to be given in four applications during a period of two to four weeks before fall and the effects will last for four years.

Presidential Term Limit Pokes Along

Only 23 States Ratify Proposal

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The proposed 22nd amendment to the United States constitution, limiting the number of terms of a president, has run into tough sledding.

The amendment, as proposed by the Republican 80th Congress, has been rejected by legislatures of four states and approved by only two since the Democratic victory at the polls last November. Before that, only two states had taken negative action and 21 state legislatures had ratified it.

Under the terms of the amendment, no person could be elected to the presidency more than twice. If a vice president succeeded to the presidency before half a term was over, he would be permitted to seek office only once himself.

Thirty-six of the nation's 48 states must give their approval within seven years of submission of the proposal if it is to become effective. Favorable actions still are needed from 13 states out of the 19 which have yet to act on it. In several of those 19, passage seems unlikely. Two of the 19 states cannot decide until their legislatures meet in 1950.

States which have rejected the amendment this year are Idaho, Montana, Utah and North Carolina. Texas and Oklahoma legislatures previously killed the plan in their states.

South Dakota and North Dakota are the only states to give their approval so far in 1949. In 1947 and 1946 approval was given by Maine, Michigan, Kansas, Iowa, New Hampshire, Illinois, Delaware, Oregon, New Jersey, Vermont, California, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Colorado, Connecitcut, Missouri, Nebraska, Virginia, Mississippi and New York.

A survey showed the following status of the measure in some of the other 19 states:

ALABAMA—No discussion of the measure so far.

ARIZONA — No action yet; "outlook is dim."

ARKANSAS—Little chance for action this year. Legislature adjourns March 10.

FLORIDA—No action possible until legislature meets in April.

GEORGIA—Action impossible until legislature meets in 1950.

INDIANA — Amendment has been adopted by Republican-controlled house but it is now bottled in committee of the Democratic senate. Committee chairman says there is no chance of adoption before legislature adjourns this weekend.

LOUISIANA—No action possible until legislature meets in 1950.

MARYLAND — No indication when amendment will be considered.

MASSACHUSETTS — Adoption seen possible this year.

MINNESOTA—Proposal now in both senate and house committees with action possible some time this week.

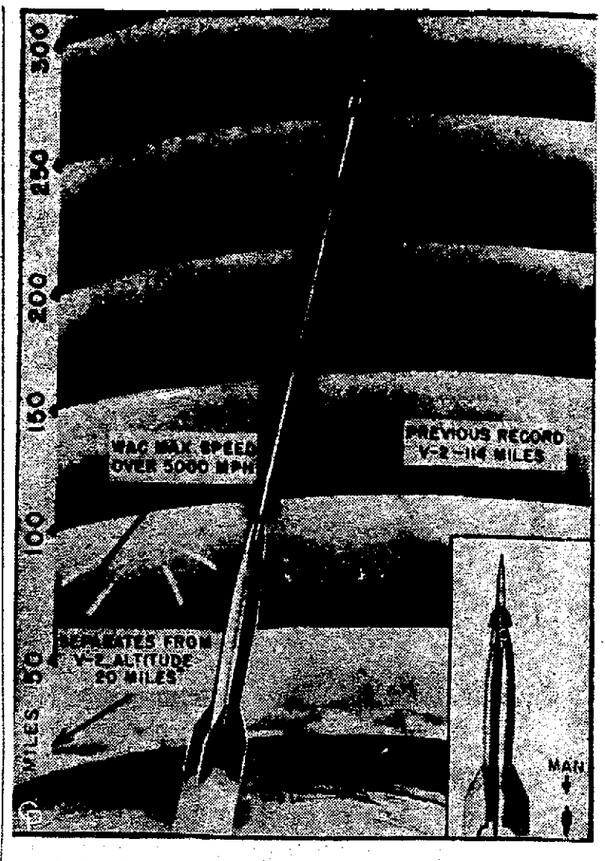
RHODE ISLAND — Amendment very likely to be passed this year. Democratic-controlled legislature adjourns latter part of April.

SOUTH CAROLINA—Amendment lies in house committee with no indication of early action.

WASHINGTON—State senate adopted it in January but proposal in house committee's hands.

WEST VIRGINIA — No floor action taken but Democratic Governor Okey L. Patteson has espressed his opposition to it.

Other states which have taken no final action include Nevada, New Mexico, Tennessee and Wyoming.



TWIN ROCKET SETS MARK—Released by the U. S. Army, the artist's sketch above shows how the world's first "twin" rocket, with a speed of 5,000 miles an hour, climbed to an unprecedented height of 250 miles in the air. Fired from the Army Ordnance Proving Grounds, White Sands, N. M., the missile was made up of a German V-2 rocket and an American one. When the first rocket reached its peak, it fell away, and the second rocket screamed on into space.—(Official U. S. Army photo)

Ashland's Kahl Herd Classified For Type

ASHLAND — Eight animals in the herd of Kahl Brothers here were inspected and classified for type under the Holstein-Friesian Association of America inspection program.

It was the first classification for this herd and resulted in two designated "excellent," three "very good" and one scored "good plus."

Concert Series Staff Retained In Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — All officers of the Bucyrus Community Concert Series have been re-elected for another year with Howard Schieber, local building contractor, being retained as president.

Other officers include: vice president, Edwin Norton; secretary, Miss Aileen Philwin; treasurer, C. E. Gerhardt; executive board, Mrs. Paul Kuehnle, Mrs. Edith Briegel, Miss Kathryn Fox, Miss Philsin, Robert Caldwell, Miss Freda Layer and J. Richard Simcox.

The campaign for members for the 1949-50 year will be held during the week beginning May 2, President Schieber announced.

Willard Senior Play To Be Staged March 25

WILLARD — "Dulcy", a three-act comedy, has been chosen as the senior class play and will be presented on March 25, according to Miss Mary Elbin, director.

Donna Adams will be the prompter and Evelyn Buckingham and Joy Corry will have charge of properties. The play was written by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly and had a long run in New York City.

Did Mistaken Identity Imprison Them?

Strange Case of 'Look-Alikes'

By JOHN CREECY
Central Press Correspondent

LANSING, Mich — Some day soon, as things look now, John and Ed Lora will walk out of Jackson prison, free after serving five years in that grim institution for a crime that police are now pretty sure they didn't commit.

The crime was a robbery of a bank in Flint, Mich., in 1933. Who did commit it if the Loras didn't? Well, police think it very likely that it may have been a couple of other men who look amazingly like the brothers.

If and when John, 51, and Ed, 58, go free, it will be largely due to the efforts of the Michigan state police who, once convinced a mistake had been made, worked just as hard to prove the Loras' innocence as they had worked earlier to prove their guilt.

Back in 1944, there had seemed little doubt as to their guilt, even though they were being tried for an 11-year-old offense.

Firstly, both of the Loras were known to have served time in their native Ohio for bank robbery. Secondly, there were several witnesses who had got a good look at the bank robbers, and who were positive in their identification of the two.

True, John spoke with a disturbing ring of sincerity when he got up before the judge after the trial was over and said: "I thank your honor and the jury. You have been very considerate. But as true as there is a God in heaven, we were never in Flint in our lives until the police brought us here."

★

IT IS, of course, not unusual, for men in Jackson, the world's largest prison, to claim they were unjustly convicted. The prison sociologists, who interviewed them, noted in their records:

"ED LORA — Pleasant individual; though co-operative, he resents his incarceration."

"JOHN LORA — Except for implausibly denying present charge, he appears to have good attitude."

It was a chance encounter with another prisoner that gave them their first ray of hope. As Ed Lora relates the story:

"It was just after I finished my stay in quarantine when an inmate walked up to me and said: 'How are you, Charlie?'"

"I looked at him and wondered what he was talking about. I was interested in what he had to say. Finally, after I had dogged him for days, he said: 'Aren't you in on a bum beef?'

"I said 'yes, how do you know?'

"Then he said he had seen me in the yard and thought I was Charlie Kent, a man with whom he had served time in New Jersey."

Lora said the man told him Kent had once confided that he was wanted in Flint for a bank robbery.

Unfortunately, this discovery did the Loras little good at the time. Nobody would believe them. After four years Ed became a trusty and his work took him to state police headquarters. This gave him an opportunity to tell his story to Lt. Edward Cooper, head of the state police detective bureau.

Cooper was skeptical, but conscientious enough to check the records to see if he could learn anything about "Charlie Kent."

The officer found a record of Kent readily enough. The name turned out to be an alias for Carrol Johnson, a bank robber finishing a long term in a New Jersey penitentiary for a $100,000 payroll robbery.

★

COOPER MANAGED to obtain a picture of Johnson, and then he began to believe, for the first time, that there just might be something in the Loras story. story. For Johnson, in the picture, looked enough like Ed Lora to be his twin.

Cooper had a talk with State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard. His instructions were: "A police officer having this kind of knowledge should be just as energetic in clearing two innocent men as in convicting the guilty ones."

Cooper took the next train to New Jersey and the cell of "Charlie Kent." Johnson asked Cooper if he had been "fingered" and refused to talk.

Checking into the New Jersey records, Cooper found that Johnson had been arrested in the payroll robbery with a man named John Fodale, a Detroit gunman. He looked up a picture of Fodale—and got a shock. It was almost impossible to tell any difference physically between Fodale and a picture of John Lora.

Fodale, it proved, was in Jackson prison himself, having been sentenced for a Michigan robbery after his release, in 1942, from the New Jersey prison.

Cooper went to see Fodale,

Ed Lora

Carrol Johnson alias Charlie Kent

John Lora

John Fodale alias John Farley

who also had used the alias "John Farley."

★

FODALE FLATLY denied that he had taken part in the Flint robbery, or that he had known Johnson prior to the time of the payroll robbery in which they were both involved. When Cooper told him about the Lora brothers, he said:

"I'm glad you came. Maybe you can help me, too. I'm in on a bum rap; somebody else pulled the robbery they convicted me for."

Cooper suggested a lie detector test. Fodale readily agreed, but his showing on the test was not convincing to state police.

Commissioner Leonard reported in a letter to the parole board: "The results of these tests show there was considerable deceit regarding the Flint bank robbery; also to knowing 'Charlie Kent' previous to January, 1934."

The Lora brothers then were given similar tests. The police were convinced that they were telling the truth when they said they were innocent of the Flint robbery.

It was an admitted fact that both had previous records for bank robbery. Ed had been picked up by Toledo police Sept. 28, 1933, just four days after the Flint robbery, and charged with robbing a bank at Wharton, near his home.

He readily admitted, in court, that he had robbed the Wharton bank. He explained, however, that all of his savings, including his World War I soldiers bonus were in the bank when it closed its doors as result of the depression. He was given a 20-year sentence.

BROTHER JOHN was arrested a few days later and charged with the robbery of a bank at Lucky, O. He was sentenced to life. At the time of their arrests, Flint witnesses had viewed both brothers. They had tentatively identified Ed, but not John.

Ed was paroled from the Ohio prison in February, 1944. Entering Michigan, he was picked up and brought to Flint for questioning. John was released a couple of months later. Flint authorities asked him to come up and help clear up Ed's difficulty.

John says he replied: "I'll be glad to. I'll prove to you that neither of us has ever been in Flint in our lives."

They did not prove it at the time, but now moves for their freedom are proceeding on three fronts.

Attorney Reese Stipes is preparing a motion for a new trial. "I have an open mind and am willing to listen to any new evidence in this matter," Circuit Judge Philip Elliot, the sentencing judge says. "I have been very co-operative with Lieutenant Cooper and if any mistake has been made in sending the Loras to prison the court will be interested in it."

In Lansing, Gov. G. Mennen Williams is considering a plea for a full pardon for the Loras. Meanwhile the parole board is considering a parole application. Ironically, they have now served enough of their terms to be eligible for parole.

Metropolitan Opera Seeks Deal With German Soprano For 1949

THE MET OPERA is flirting with Erna Berger, the German coloratura soprano, for next season. She arrived recently.

Remember Third avenue where Ray Milland in "Lost Weekend" tried to pawn a typewriter to buy a quart? Tiny delicatessens there now sell roast turkey at $4 per lb. They explain: "There's only four lbs. of white meat on a 29-lb. bird."

Kids can be cruel: Many of them (in Greenwich) tease the children of two stage and screen stars because their parents used to be wed to each other.

This is how down the reading biz is: Even the "Pictorial Biography of Harry Truman" (expected to be a surefire seller) isn't. Newstand report terrific returns.

Cecil Beaton and Truman Capote are collabbing on a play. . . The box-office at the National swears the advance sale on John Garfield in "The Big Knife" will match (or top) that of the town's biggest hit: "Death of a Salesman." They say "it's the heaviest mail in thirty years". . . Add new ditty titles: "Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend."

Earl Wilson's new book (due in July) is christened: "Let 'Em Eat Cheesecake." Doubleday will parent it. . . Elliott Business Machines (in the person of Mrs. Elliott, who holds court at the New Weston) is the sole backer of "The Ivy Green".

We heard that milady's frocks will be 2 to 3 inches briefer in the Spring. Some readers want to wager otherwise.

"You Can Change the World" (by Father James Keller and reporter Meyer Berger of the Times) has gone into another printing—25,000 copies.

That word-war at the Lambs Club was a difference of opinion between Fred Hillebrand and Happy Felton. Felton weighs 300 plus; Fred is 140. . . They say Nina Radova at the Carousel is what Marlene Dietrich looked like at that age.

Honeymooning Couples Find Eden On Palm-Fringed Florida Island

A BEACHCOMBER'S life on a palm-fringed isle is anything but a restful adventure.

But it is fun—if you don't mind hard work and doing without modern kitchen and bathroom conveniences.

At least that has been the experience of two young honeymooning couples here. They didn't have to go to the South Seas. They carved wilderness homes on Cabbage Key, a lonely 2,000-acre island jungle 12 miles southwest of this Florida west coast tourist metropolis.

A year ago Claude and Eva McCall came and built themselves a two-room palm-thatched cottage in a clearing near the bay. Last October another young couple, Malcolm and Barbara Simmons, moved to Cabbage Key and cleared a homesite, too.

Since then the two couples have lived happily a-la-Tarzan, working companionably together to turn the island into an Eden of comfort and plenty. They say they have found both romance and happiness.

"One reason it has worked out so well is that it was our wives who wanted to try this Robinson Crusoe Life," smiled McCall, a slim tanned former radio repairman.

He has a small, leaky motorboat. He and Simmons use it to go clamming or shrimp fishing to earn what cash money they need.

"I guess it is really harder work than fixing radios," McCall said, "but somehow it doesn't seem like work."

Actually neither couple requires much money. They have no rent, their clothing upkeep is at a minimum, and there are no bars, nightclubs, or movies on the island. The only neighbor is old Uncle Silas Dent, a bewhiskered sociable hermit.

"We can live real well here and have a darn good diet for $10 a week," said Barbara. Most of that goes for motor boat fuel and for groceries, bought at a village across the bay. They could probably cut costs to $5 a week by eating more sea food, which they catch themselves.

The island abounds in raccoons, land turtles and rattlesnakes—and all but the rattlesnakes are considered highly edible.

"Roast coon is wonderful," said Barbara, a pretty, chestnut-haired former office credit executive from Washington, D. C. "It has a taste between chicken and beef."

A self-taught artist, Mrs. Simmons spends her evenings painting by candlelight. She has completed 67 pictures and sold one for $175.

"I love it here," she said. "There are orchids growing wild in the trees. For lunch we can fix up a palm heart salad free that would cost $1.75 in New York."

The only thing she would omit from the island is the rattlesnakes. Several snake skins hang from the living room walls.

"Once Uncle Silas, our hermit, killed a snake and I picked it up and carried it a quarter of a mile home," she recalled. "When I put it down, it came slithering at me—and we had to kill it all over again."

She shuddered a little. But there are things to make her and her friend Eva forget the snakes—long warm days in the sun, the night wind softly stirring the palm trees, lazy swims in the blue waters, freedom from "nosey neighbors."

There is a little limit on all things. And their romantic idyll won't go on forever. A syndicate recently purchased Cabbage Key for $200,000 and has plans to develop the little island paradise into a playground for the wealthy.

"By then we'll be ready to leave," said Mrs. Simmons. "But if I had a million dollars tomorrow, I wouldn't want anything different from this life."

Treadwell Case Set For April 19

Accused of Attack On Patrolman

Trial of Elmer Treadwell, indicted on two counts, assault with intent to kill and assault with intent to maim, has been set for April 19 in common pleas court.

Treadwell, 29, of 41 Harmon avenue, is accused of assaulting Policeman Glenn Adams with his own police club at 313 North Main street. The case will be heard by a jury.

Unable to make $10,000 bond, Treadwell is held in the county jail.

Trial of two brothers, Frank, 41, and Miles Marion Skaggs, 42, of 325 North Main street, charged with grand larceny, has been set for March 16, 17 and 18.

Each has waived trial by jury and the trials will be held before a three-judge court.

Hearing of a $75,000 personal injury suit went into its second day today in common pleas court before Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Gregg's action says the accident occurred at the plant March 6, 1947, while he was employed by the Mansfield Structural and Erecting company which was replacing a crane at the Shelby plant.

A jury of 10 men and two women are hearing the case.

A case scheduled for today, that of Mrs. Zella I. Bradley of Warren road, on behalf of her son, against the Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., was continued until April 11 at the request of both parties. In this case, the plaintiff seeks a $50,000 judgment for injuries allegedly received by the boy while riding a city bus.

Ferbrache Started At a Dollar a Week

Marks 63 Years As Printer

By NITA BRANSON

ON JOB 63 YEARS—Wilber Wilson Ferbrache at work bench.

Wilber Wilson Ferbrache, known as "Ferby" to News-Journal employes, will celebrate 50 years as a member of the International Typographical Union on March 15.

Reminiscing today on his half century as a printer, Ferby said there are two things which have impressed him most during those years.

"The first is the big stride made in printing machinery—machines like the linotype and the monotype," he declared.

"Then I think the friendliness of printers has impressed me as much as anything else," he added. They are the friendliest people in the world."

Sixty-three years ago when Ferby began working for The Jeffersonian in Cambridge, everything was set by hand.

"We set even the six-point type for ads," he recalled.

Ferby was just 13 when he started as a "printer's devil" with the Jeffersonian. His wages for the first six months were $1 a week.

"My father died when I was seven," Ferby said. "And my mother had eight children to care for. But that $1 stretched a long way. We could buy two pounds of steak for a quarter and two dozen eggs for the same price. Eight or nine pounds of butter didn't cost any more than one pound does today."

NEWSBOY TOO

In addition to being the printer's devil, which means doing all the odd jobs around the print shop, Ferby delivered papers at night.

"But I didn't earn anything for that. That was just a 'loyalty' job," he remembered.

Through the succeeding years Ferby has progressed to both machine and floor man; he can operate a linotype or make up ads.

Thirty years of that 50 he has worked on newspapers; the other 20 in job shops.

"But I like newspaper best," he asserted.

From Cambridge he went to the Standard Advertising company in Coshocton, then successively to Dover, Marietta, Zanesville, South Bend, Ind., and Canton. He came to Mansfield in September, 1930, and has been with The News-Journal since it was formed through a merger in 1932.

Ferby joined the union as a charter member of No. 208 back in Cambridge. He has had an invitation to return there for his "golden anniversary" but isn't quite sure that he'll make it. However, there are indications that the gang "upstairs" won't let the day go unnoticed.

The Ferbraches and their son, Wilber jr., live at 63½ South Diamond street. There also is a daughter, Mrs. Earle M. Willey of Canton.

Today at 75 Ferby is still a handy man to have around an ad alley. And he still likes to go home at night and stretch out on the davenport with a good detective story.

"I've never been much of a hand at sports," he said "but I sure like to read."

Hints 'Less Than Death' for Pastors

SOFIA—(INS)—The communist prosecutor at the Sofia trial of 15 Protestant ministers said today the defendants are "so miserable and pitiful" that he probably will not ask death sentences for them.

Simultaneously, Georgiev moved to speed up the trial by asking permission of the "workers' court" to excuse 39 witnesses. Originally, 65 witnesses—many of them pastors who have been in prison but not formally charged with crimes—were summoned.

Major trial development today was the testimony of one prosecution witness linking defendant Vassily Ziapkov with Nikola Petkov, executed agrarian party leader.

Dr. Boris Peshev, former administrative secretary to Petkov, who was executed in 1947 for plotting a revolt, said that the agrarian leader contacted the Rev. Vassily Ziapkov to enlist his aid in an alleged American anti-communist campaign.

BUDAPEST —(INS)— A Budapest Peoples' court is expected to declare guilty today 14 alleged accomplices of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty charged with assisting the Hungarian primate in black market currency dealings.

Seven of the accused, including George Nagy, former clerk in the national bank, told the court that they were "intimidated" by communist police and retracted in whole or in part the confessions attributed to them.

Traffic Affected By Break In Main

A break in a water main at South Main street and Lexington avenue early today brought an order from Street Supt. E. W. Davis that one-way traffic be maintained at the intersection today and Thursday.

Regular traffic, however, will be resumed in the evenings Davis said. Two excavations have been made at the intersection in an effort to find the break. Davis said the diggings would be covered over at night so that two-way traffic could be resumed.

Ebright Talks to 250 Here

Gives Victory Formula

Ohio's winningest Republican told the Richland county GOP last night how to get back on the victory trail.

The advice came from State Treasurer Don H. Ebright, only Republican state official who weathered the Democratic landslide last fall. He was the principal speaker at a belated Lincoln day dinner at the First Methodist church. The meeting, which drew a capacity crowd of 250, served as a "kick-off" for the coming municipal campaign.

Ebright, mentioned as a possible GOP candidate for governor in 1950, said the Republicans must offer a positive, progressive program to regain control of the state and federal governments. He said a lot of hard work would help, too.

Republicans lost the last election by default, not defeat, he told the enthusiastic crowd. The Ohio vote dropped 400,000 from 1940 to 1948, he pointed out.

"The Republican party has a rugged constitution. It had 22 million voters in November and for the lack of only two-thirds of a vote per precinct in Ohio, lost the state.

Ebright said the defeat in November did the party some good by stirring workers into action.

"I have seen more enthusiasm and optimism since the election than I saw in the campaign that preceded it," he said.

RAPS TRUMAN

Ebright probably sounded the keynote of the 1952 presidential campaign when he rapped the Truman program as "smacking of socialism."

"The 'cradle-to-grave' proposal is not new," he said. "It was tried in ancient Rome and Greece and more recently in Germany and England. It has failed in all of them."

Socialism throttles the initiative which helped to make the United States the power that it is, he said.

"We can't have security without responsible enterprise. Our system made us great. Our job is to expand it," he continued.

"Lincoln gave clarity to our basic political principles. He was the supreme example of the best elements of our political system.

Turning to the Democratic-controlled legislature, Ebright said it had kept none of its promises to streamline its functions and get its business done in record time. Already in session two months, the legislature has passed only two of the 880 bills which were introduced, he said.

He predicted President Truman soon would want to purge some of the Democrats in congress because they oppose his program.

VOTES ONE BILL

Congress, which has been in session 60 days, has passed only one bill—to raise the President's salary, he said.

Attorney J. Eugene Ryan, who was toastmaster last night, said, "Lincoln didn't out-promise the other party or try to mimic it."

In a brief greeting to the crowd, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said the enthusiasm shown at the meeting was "a good sign for the Republicans in next fall's election."

Ryan introduced the GOP candidates for the nominations for city offices in the May primary.

The dinner last night was served free by the county GOP organization. City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch was in charge of the meeting arrangements.

Admit Guilt In Burglary

Dwight Cherry, 51-year-old ex-convict, and Robert J. Kennedy, 21, pleaded guilty today in Zanesville municipal court to charges of possessing burglary tools. They were bound over to the Muskingum county grand jury on $5,000 bond each.

Cherry has confessed to Sheriff E. P. Long the $150 looting of the Lexington school safe last Jan. 10. Cherry said he committed the burglary alone.

Detective Capt. Robert Snelling of Zanesville said Cherry has been questioned by Logan county authorities in connection with more than a dozen burglaries there in the past 18 months.

Cherry has boasted he had smashed open safes in 38 Ohio, Indiana and Illinois high schools since his release from the Ohio penitentiary in 1944, Snelling said. He estimated the loot of the "jobs" already admitted by Cherry at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Speaker Mixes Philosophy, Baseball In Rotary Talk

Elbert K. "Rosey" Rowswell, Pittsburgh baseball announcer author of "Diamond Laughs", provided chuckles for the Rotary club at yesterday's meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

By combining philosophy, poetry, and humor in his address upon "The Joy of Living", Rowswell showed how to get joy from every-day happenings.

His many baseball anecdotes included the one about a famous Pittsburgh infielder who thought one of the outfielders was doing a pretty poor job and had the manager put him in left field the next inning.

The opposing team, seeing an infielder in the outfield, hit every ball into his territory. Not being familiar with outfield play, the transplanted infielder missed most of the balls coming his way and only through the efforts of the pitcher was the other team retired.

After the opposing team was finally 'struck out', the Pittsburgh infielder who thought he could play the outfield better than an outfielder complained that the man he replaced, "certainly fouled up that outfield for me."

Rowswell pointed out that the player never considered that he wasn't trained for the job, and that none of us realizes what the other fellow has to go through, until we are called on to perform his job.

Rowswell's appearance before the Rotary club was arranged by Harold W. Arlin, who worked with him in Pittsburgh in the early days of radio.

Did Mistaken Identity Imprison Them?

By JOHN CREECY
Central Press Correspondent

LANSING, Mich — Some day soon, as things look now, John and Ed Lora will walk out of Jackson prison, free after serving five years in that grim institution for a crime that police are now pretty sure they didn't commit.

The crime was a robbery of a bank in Flint, Mich., in 1933. Who did commit it if the Loras didn't? Well, police think it very likely that it may have been a couple of other men who look amazingly like the brothers.

If and when John, 51, and Ed, 58, go free, it will be largely due to the efforts of the Michigan state police who, once convinced a mistake had been made, worked just as hard to prove the Loras' innocence as they had worked earlier to prove their guilt.

Back in 1944, there had seemed little doubt as to their guilt, even though they were being tried for an 11-year-old offense.

Firstly, both of the Loras were known to have served time in their native Ohio for bank robbery. Secondly, there were several witnesses who had got a good look at the bank robbers, and who were positive in their identification of the two.

True, John spoke with a disturbing ring of sincerity when he got up before the judge after the trial was over and said: "I thank your honor and the jury. You have been very considerate. But as true as there is a God in heaven, we were never in Flint in our lives until the police brought us here."

★

IT IS, of course, not unusual, for men in Jackson, the world's largest prison, to claim they were unjustly convicted. The prison sociologists, who interviewed them, noted in their records:

"ED LORA — Pleasant individual; though co-operative, he resents his incarceration."

"JOHN LORA — Except for implausibly denying present charge, he appears to have good attitude."

It was a chance encounter with another prisoner that gave them their first ray of hope. As Ed Lora relates the story:

"It was just after I finished my stay in quarantine when an inmate walked up to me and said: 'How are you, Charlie?'

"I looked at him and wondered what he was talking about. I was interested in what he had to say. Finally, after I had dogged him for days, he said: 'Aren't you in on a bum beef?'

"I said 'yes, how do you know?'

"Then he said he had seen me in the yard and thought I was Charlie Kent, a man with whom he had served time in New Jersey."

Lora said the man told him Kent had once confided that he was wanted in Flint for a bank robbery.

Unfortunately, this discovery did the Loras little good at the time. Nobody would believe them. After four years Ed became a trusty and his work took him to state police headquarters. This gave him an opportunity to tell his story to Lt. Edward Cooper, head of the state police detective bureau.

Cooper was skeptical, but conscientious enough to check the records to see if he could learn anything about "Charlie Kent."

The officer found a record of Kent readily enough. The name turned out to be an alias for Carrol Johnson, a bank robber finishing a long term in a New Jersey penitentiary for a $100,000 payroll robbery.

★

COOPER MANAGED to obtain a picture of Johnson, and then he began to believe, for the first time, that there just might be something in the Loras story. story. For Johnson, in the picture, looked enough like Ed Lora to be his twin.

Cooper had a talk with State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard. His instructions were: "A police officer having this kind of knowledge should be just as energetic in clearing two innocent men as in convicting the guilty ones."

Cooper took the next train to New Jersey and the cell of "Charlie Kent." Johnson asked Cooper if he had been "fingered" and refused to talk.

Checking into the New Jersey records, Cooper found that Johnson had been arrested in the payroll robbery with a man named John Fodale, a Detroit gunman. He looked up a picture of Fodale—and got a shock. It was almost impossible to tell any difference physically, between Fodale and a picture of John Lora.

Fodale, it proved, was in Jackson prison himself, having been sentenced for a Michigan robbery after his release, in 1942, from the New Jersey prison.

Cooper went to see Fodale,

Ed Lora

Carrol Johnson alias Charlie Kent

John Lora

John Fodale alias John Farley

who also had used the alias "John Farley."

★

FODALE FLATLY denied that he had taken part in the Flint robbery, or that he had known Johnson prior to the time of the payroll robbery in which they were both involved. When Cooper told him about the Lora brothers, he said:

"I'm glad you came. Maybe you can help me, too. I'm in on a bum rap; somebody else pulled the robbery they convicted me for."

Cooper suggested a lie detector test. Fodale readily agreed, but his showing on the test was not convincing to state police.

Commissioner Leonard reported in a letter to the parole board. "The results of these tests show there was considerable deceit regarding the Flint bank robbery; also to knowing 'Charlie Kent' previous to January, 1934."

The Lora brothers then were given similar tests. The police were convinced that they were telling the truth when they said they were innocent of the Flint robbery.

It was an admitted fact that both had previous records for bank robbery. Ed had been picked up by Toledo police Sept. 28, 1933, just four days after the Flint robbery, and charged with robbing a bank at Wharton, near his home.

He readily admitted, in court, that he had robbed the Wharton bank. He explained, however, that all of his savings, including his World War I soldiers bonus were in the bank when it closed its doors as result of the depression. He was given a 20-year sentence.

★

BROTHER JOHN was arrested a few days later and charged with the robbery of a bank at Lucky, O. He was sentenced to life. At the time of their arrests, Flint witnesses had viewed both brothers. They had tentatively identified Ed, but not John.

Ed was paroled from the Ohio prison in February, 1944. Entering Michigan, he was picked up and brought to Flint for questioning. John was released a couple of months later. Flint authorities asked him to come up and help clear up Ed's difficulty.

John says he replied: "I'll be glad to. I'll prove to you that neither of us has ever been in Flint in our lives."

They did not prove it at the time, but now moves for their freedom are proceeding on three fronts.

Attorney Reese Stipes is preparing a motion for a new trial. "I have an open mind and am willing to listen to any new evidence in this matter," Circuit Judge Philip Elliot, the sentencing judge says. "I have been very co-operative with Lieutenant Cooper and if any mistake has been made in sending the Loras to prison the court will be interested in it."

In Lansing, Gov. G. Mennen Williams is considering a plea for a full pardon for the Loras. Meanwhile the parole board is considering a parole application. Ironically, they have now served enough of their terms to be eligible for parole.

Metropolitan Opera Seeks Deal With German Soprano For 1949

THE MET OPERA is flirting with Erna Berger, the German coloratura soprano, for next season. She arrived recently.

Remember Third avenue where Ray Milland in "Lost Weekend" tried to pawn a typewriter to buy a quart? Tiny delicatessens there now sell roast turkey at $4 per lb. They explain: "There's only four lbs. of white meat on a 29-lb. bird."

Kids can be cruel: Many of them (in Greenwich) tease the children of two stage and screen stars because their parents used to be wed to each other.

This is how down the reading biz is: Even the "Pictorial Biography of Harry Truman" (expected to be a surefire seller) isn't. Newstand report terrific returns.

Cecil Beaton and Truman Capote are collabbing on a play . . . The box-office at the National swears the advance sale on John Garfield in "The Big Knife" will match (or top) that of the town's biggest hit: "Death of a Salesman." They say "it's the heaviest mail in thirty years" . . . Add new ditty titles: "Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend."

Earl Wilson's new book (due in July) is christened: "Let 'Em Eat Cheesecake." Doubleday will parent it . . . Elliott Business Machines (in the person of Mrs. Elliott, who holds court at the New Weston) is the sole backer of "The Ivy Green".

We heard that milady's frocks will be 2 to 3 inches briefer in the Spring. Some readers want to wager otherwise.

Ex-Star staffers are sore at I. Stone (former colleague), who found refuge at the Post when the Star fell. Because of his first essay criticizing them . . . Groom of a one-time famous child-star is in trouble over bum chex.

"You Can Change the World" (by Father James Keller and reporter Meyer Berger of the Times) has gone into another printing—25,000 copies.

Gilbert Gabriel was offered the critic post on Cue, but his wife said: "Do another book".

Honeymooning Couples Find Eden On Palm-Fringed Florida Island

A BEACHCOMBER'S life on a palm-fringed isle is anything but a restful adventure.

But it is fun—if you don't mind hard work and doing without modern kitchen and bathroom conveniences.

At least that has been the experience of two young honeymooning couples here. They didn't have to go to the South Seas. They carved wilderness homes on Cabbage Key, a lonely 2,000-acre island jungle 12 miles southwest of this Florida west coast tourist metropolis.

A year ago Claude and Eva McCall came and built themselves a two-room palm-thatched cottage in a clearing near the bay. Last October another young couple, Malcolm and Barbara Simmons, moved to Cabbage Key and cleared a homesite, too.

Since then the two couples have lived happily a-la-Tarzan, working companionably together to turn the island into an Eden of comfort and plenty. They say they have found both romance and happiness.

"One reason it has worked out so well is that it was our wives who wanted to try this Robinson Crusoe Life," smiled McCall, a slim tanned former radio repairman.

He has a small, leaky motorboat. He and Simmons use it to go clamming or shrimp fishing to earn what cash money they need.

"I guess it is really harder work than fixing radios," McCall said, "but somehow it doesn't seem like work."

Actually neither couple requires much money. They have no rent, their clothing upkeep is at a minimum, and there are no bars, nightclubs, or movies on the island. The only neighbor is old Uncle Silas Dent, a bewhiskered sociable hermit.

"We can live real well here and have a darn good diet for $10 a week," said Barbara. Most of that goes for motor boat fuel and for groceries, bought at a village across the bay. They could probably cut costs to $5 a week by eating more sea food, which they catch themselves.

The island abounds in raccoons, land turtles and rattlesnakes—and all but the rattlesnakes are considered highly edible.

"Roast coon is wonderful," said Barbara, a pretty, chestnut-haired former office credit executive from Washington, D. C. "It has a taste between chicken and beef."

A self-taught artist, Mrs. Simmons spends her evenings painting by candlelight. She has completed 67 pictures and sold one for $175.

"I love it here," she said. "There are orchids growing wild in the trees. For lunch we can fix up a palm heart salad free that would cost $1.75 in New York."

The only thing she would omit from the island is the rattlesnakes. Several snake skins hang from the living room walls.

"Once Uncle Silas, our hermit, killed a snake and I picked it up and carried it a quarter of a mile home," she recalled. "When I put it down, it came slithering at me—and we had to kill it all over again."

She shuddered a little. But there are things to make her and her friend Eva forget the snakes—long warm days in the sun, the night wind softly stirring the palm trees, lazy swims in the blue waters, freedom from "nosey neighbors."

There is a little limit on all things. And their romantic idyll won't go on forever. A syndicate recently purchased Cabbage Key for $200,000 and has plans to develop the little island paradise into a playground for the wealthy.

"By then we'll be ready to leave," said Mrs. Simmons. "But if I had a million dollars tomorrow, I wouldn't want anything different from this life."

Treadwell Case Set For April 19

Accused of Attack On Patrolman

Trial of Elmer Treadwell, indicted on two counts, assault with intent to kill and assault with intent to maim, has been set for April 19 in common pleas court.

Treadwell, 29, of 41 Harmon avenue, is accused of assaulting Policeman Glenn Adams with his own police club at 313 North Main street. The case will be heard by a jury.

Unable to make $10,000 bond, Treadwell is held in the county jail.

Trial of two brothers, Frank, 41, and Miles Marion Skaggs, 42, of 325 North Main street, charged with grand larceny, has been set for March 16, 17 and 18.

Each has waived trial by jury and the trials will be held before a three-judge court.

Hearing of a $75,000 personal injury suit went into its second day today in common pleas court before Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

The action is being brought by Sturgeon Gregg of Mansfield, R. D., who asks the sum for permanent injuries allegedly received while working at the factory of the defendant, the Ohio Seamless Tube company of Shelby.

Gregg's action says the accident occurred at the plant March 6, 1947, while he was employed by the Mansfield Structural and Erecting company which was replacing a crane at the Shelby plant.

A jury of 10 men and two women are hearing the case.

A case scheduled for today, that of Mrs. Zella I. Bradley of Warren road, on behalf of her son, against the Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., was continued until April 11 at the request of both parties. In this case, the plaintiff seeks a $50,000 judgment for injuries allegedly received by the boy while riding a city bus.

Illness Takes Mrs. Jones, 29

Mrs. Mozell Jones, 29, of 161 West Sixth street, died yesterday in Mt. Vernon after a lingering illness.

She was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., on Sept. 5, 1919 and had been a resident of Mansfield since 1926.

Surviving, besides her husband, John Jones, are two sons, Richard and James of Mansfield; her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver, sr., of Mansfield; four brothers, James Henry, Thomas and Justice Weaver, of Mansfield, and John Weaver jr., of Cleveland; three sisters, Lula Mae Weaver, of Mansfield, and Mrs. Odell Moten and Mrs. Sarah Cauley, both of Pontiac, Mich.

Mrs. Jones Was a member of the Church of God and Christ on North Diamond street.

Friends may call at the Geiger funeral home, where services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. by Rev. L. G. Maddox, of the Church of God and Christ. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Ferbrache Started At a Dollar a Week

Marks 63 Years As Printer

By NITA BRANSON

Wilber Wilson Ferbrache, known as "Ferby" to News-Journal employes, will celebrate 50 years as a member of the International Typographical Union on March 15.

Reminiscing today on his half century as a printer, Ferby said there are two things which have impressed him most during those years.

"The first is the big stride made in printing machinery—machines like the linotype and the monotype," he declared.

"Then I think the friendliness of printers has impressed me as much as anything else," he added. They are the friendliest people in the world."

Sixty-three years ago when Ferby began working for The Jeffersonian in Cambridge, everything was set by hand.

"We set even the six-point type for ads," he recalled.

Ferby was just 13 when he started as a "printer's devil" with the Jeffersonian. His wages for the first six months were $1 a week.

"My father died when I was seven," Ferby said. "And my mother had eight children to care for. But that $1 stretched a long way. We could buy two pounds of steak for a quarter and two dozen eggs for the same price. Eight or nine pounds of butter didn't cost any more than one pound does today."

NEWSBOY TOO

In addition to being the printer's devil, which means doing all the odd jobs around the print shop, Ferby delivered papers at night.

"But I didn't earn anything for that. That was just a 'loyalty' job," he remembered.

Through the succeeding years Ferby has progressed to both machine and floor man; he can operate a linotype or make up ads.

Thirty years of that 50 he has worked on newspapers; the other 20 in job shops.

"But I like newspaper best," he asserted.

From Cambridge he went to the Standard Advertising company in Coshocton, then successively to Dover, Marietta, Zanesville, South Bend, Ind., and Canton. He came to Mansfield in September, 1930, and has been with The News-Journal since it was formed through a merger in 1932.

Ferby joined the union as a charter member of No. 208 back in Cambridge. He has had an invitation to return there for his "golden anniversary" but isn't quite sure that he'll make it. However, there are indications that the gang "upstairs" won't let the day go unnoticed.

The Ferbraches and their son, Wilber jr., live at 63½ South Diamond street. There also is a daughter, Mrs. Earle M. Willey of Canton.

Today at 75 Ferby is still a handy man to have around an ad alley. And he still likes to go home at night and stretch out on the davenport with a good detective story.

"I've never been much of a hand at sports," he said "but I sure like to read."

Traffic Affected By Break In Main

A break in a water main at South Main street and Lexington avenue early today brought an order from Street Supt. E. W. Davis that one-way traffic be maintained at the intersection today and Thursday.

Regular traffic, however, will be resumed in the evenings Davis said. Two excavations have been made at the intersection in an effort to find the break. Davis said the diggings would be covered over at night so that two-way traffic could be resumed.

Ebright Talks to 250 Here

Gives Victory Formula

Ohio's winningest Republican told the Richland county GOP last night how to get back on the victory trail.

The advice came from State Treasurer Don H. Ebright, only Republican state official who weathered the Democratic landslide last fall. He was the principal speaker at a belated Lincoln day dinner at the First Methodist church. The meeting, which drew a capacity crowd of 250, served as a "kick-off" for the coming municipal campaign.

Ebright, mentioned as a possible GOP candidate for governor in 1950, said the Republicans must offer a positive, progressive program to regain control of the state and federal governments. He said a lot of hard work would help, too.

Republicans lost the last election by default, not defeat, he told the enthusiastic crowd. The Ohio vote dropped 400,000 from 1940 to 1948, he pointed out.

"The Republican party has a rugged constitution. It had 22 million voters in November and for the lack of only two-thirds of a vote per precinct in Ohio, lost the state.

Ebright said the defeat in November did the party some good by stirring workers into action.

"I have seen more enthusiasm and optimism since the election than I saw in the campaign that preceded it," he said.

RAPS TRUMAN

Ebright probably sounded the keynote of the 1952 presidential campaign when he rapped the Truman program as "smacking of socialism."

"The 'cradle-to-grave' proposal is not new," he said. "It was tried in ancient Rome and Greece and more recently in Germany and England. It has failed in all of them."

Socialism throttles the initiative which helped to make the United States the power that it is, he said.

"We can't have security without responsible enterprise. Our system made us great. Our job is to expand it," he continued.

"Lincoln gave clarity to our basic political principles. He was the supreme example of the best elements of our political system.

Turning to the Democratic-controlled legislature, Ebright said it had kept none of its promises to streamline its functions and get its business done in record time. Already in session two months, the legislature has passed only two of the 880 bills which were introduced, he said.

He predicted President Truman soon would want to purge some of the Democrats in congress because they oppose his program.

VOTES ONE BILL

Congress, which has been in session 60 days, has passed only one bill—to raise the President's salary, he said.

Attorney J. Eugene Ryan, who was toastmaster last night, said, "Lincoln didn't out-promise the other party or try to mimic it."

In a brief greeting to the crowd, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said the enthusiasm shown at the meeting was "a good sign for the Republicans in next fall's election."

Ryan introduced the GOP candidates for the nominations for city offices in the May primary.

The dinner last night was served free by the county GOP organization. City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch was in charge of the meeting arrangements.

Hints 'Less Than Death' for Pastors

SOFIA—(INS)—The communist prosecutor at the Sofia trial of 15 Protestant ministers said today the defendants are "so miserable and pitiful" that he probably will not ask death sentences for them.

Simultaneously, Georgiev moved to speed up the trial by asking permission of the "workers' court" to excuse 39 witnesses. Originally, 65 witnesses—many of them pastors who have been in prison but not formally charged with crimes—were summoned.

Major trial development today was the testimony of one prosecution witness linking defendant Vassily Ziapkov with Nikola Petkov, executed agrarian party leader.

Dr. Boris Peshev, former administrative secretary to Petkov, who was executed in 1947 for plotting a revolt, said that the agrarian leader contacted the Rev. Vassily Ziapkov to enlist his aid in an alleged American anti-communist campaign.

Admit Guilt In Burglary

Dwight Cherry, 51-year-old ex-convict, and Robert J. Kennedy, 21, pleaded guilty today in Zanesville municipal court to charges of possessing burglary tools. They were bound over to the Muskingum county grand jury on $5,000 bond each.

Cherry has confessed to Sheriff E. P. Long the $150 looting of the Lexington school safe last Jan. 10. Cherry said he committed the burglary alone.

Detective Capt. Robert Snelling of Zanesville said Cherry has been questioned by Logan county authorities in connection with more than a dozen burglaries there in the past 18 months.

Cherry has boasted he had smashed open safes in 38 Ohio, Indiana and Illinois high schools since his release from the Ohio penitentiary in 1944, Snelling said. He estimated the loot of the "jobs" already admitted by Cherry at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Speaker Mixes Philosophy, Baseball In Rotary Talk

Elbert K. "Rosey" Rowswell, Pittsburgh baseball announcer author of "Diamond Laughs", provided chuckles for the Rotary club at yesterday's meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

By combining philosophy, poetry, and humor in his address upon "The Joy of Living", Rowswell showed how to get joy from every-day happenings.

His many baseball anecdotes included the one about a famous Pittsburgh infielder who thought one of the outfielders was doing a pretty poor job and had the manager put him in left field the next inning.

The opposing team, seeing an infielder in the outfield, hit every ball into his territory. Not being familiar with outfield play, the transplanted infielder missed most of the balls coming his way and only through the efforts of the pitcher was the other team retired.

After the opposing team was finally 'struck out', the Pittsburgh infielder who thought he could play the outfield better than an outfielder complained that the man he replaced, "certainly fouled up that outfield for me."

Rowswell pointed out that the player never considered that he wasn't trained for the job, and that none of us realizes what the other fellow has to go through, until we are called on to perform his job.

Rowswell's appearance before the Rotary club was arranged by Harold W. Arlin, who worked with him in Pittsburgh in the early days of radio.

Madison Holds Bucyrus to 36-29 Victory

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

SALEM, Bellville's opponent in the district basketball tournament, is one of five unbeaten Class B teams in Ohio. . . . Salem has copped 20 without a miss and has grabbed four straight Wyandot county titles. . . . Others on the priority list are: Walnut Creek, Holmes county, with 23; Conesville, Coshocton county, 21 and North Baltimore, Wood county and Monroeville, Huron county, both with 20. . . .

However, we still think the record of Lockland Wayne tops all of the "B" schools...Wayne has won 24 of 25, losing only to Hamilton Public, the Class A favorite...The Lockland quintet twice topped the 100-point mark..Findlay's loss to Fostoria last week was a surprising thing...The Trojans had not been beaten at home for four years or hadn't dropped a Buckeye league tilt since 1945 but Fostoria turned the trick, 46 to ....It was the second loss of the season for the defending Class A champs... Hamilton Catholic, runner-up to Findlay last year, seems out of the picture with only seven wins in 17 games . Hamilton Public has 17 wins and one defeat while Bucyrus also has one of the state's better records with that 16-1 mark.

★

EATON, 1948 Class B winner, has won all nine of its games from "B" teams but has been an easy mark for several Class A teams....The No. 2 team in Class B a year ago, Lima St. Rose, is back on the warpath.. The Rosarians have 19 wins and three losses and won the Lima exempted village tournament last week ... St. Rose handed Fredericktown its only defeat in 23 games ... Yorkville, the team that features high-scoring Ken Alezzi, has copped five straight Jefferson county crowns.

DICK SCHNITTKER may break his own Ohio State basketball scoring record against DePaul Saturday...Dandy Dick needs seven points to equal the standard of 322 he set last season...Schnittker is a junior.... Tygers and Ashland Show Wares Tonight

By FRED THARP

Madison high school put a dent in the supposedly impregnable cage armor of a highly-favored Bucyrus Redmen aggregation last night at Senior high before bowing in the sectional tournament opener, 36 to 29.

Exhibiting a ball-control style of offense for the first time this season, the Rams took the sting out of Bucyrus's touted race horse attack. In fact Madison was so successful in its efforts that the Redmen did not get one of their patented fast breaks through to a successful conclusion.

What made the result even more surprising was the fact that Bucyrus had beaten the Rams on the same hardwood during the regular season, 66 to 33. Last night's game was marked the 15th straight victory for Al Pesek's club and gave them a seasonal record of 16 wins in 17 games.

Only about 1,000 fans witnessed the clash but a full house is expected tonight when a pair of contests are on the docket. Ashland, seeded No. 2, goes against Crestline at 7 p. m. with Mansfield Senior high battling the Galion Tygers at 8:30. Senior high was seeded No. 3 and Shelby No. 4. The Shelby crew will see its first action against Bucyrus Friday.

Blaine Dowler, concluding his first year at the helm of the Madison basketballers, gave the ball-control offensive to his Rams for the first time in practice Monday night. Madison was a bit rusty in its ball-handling at times as Bucyrus flashed a pressing defense but the Redmen never could get going for any stretch of time.

Actually Madison was very much in the game until the final 150 seconds. Then Bucyrus started to stall with the count, 32 to 29. Sub Norman Smith hit a two-hander from the keyhole with two minutes left and then elongated Paul Katterhenrich dumped in one from under the bucket with some 20 seconds to go.

Madison outscored the winners in the first and fourth quarters but dropped too far behind early in the second heat. The Rams took only 32 shots from the court, making nine while Bucyrus could connect on only 14 of 54. A good share of the Redmen shots had to be taken from out on the court as the Rams' 1-3-1 zone kept the under-the-basket area pretty well bottled.

Bucyrus averaged about three inches to the man more than Madison, but was unable to control the boards to any extent. Kattenhenrich, the 6-4 importation, got 10 points in the first half but did not tally again until the final 20 seconds.

The Redmen hopped into a 4-to-2 lead at the outset but Larry Secrist hit from the foul line and Jimmy Brightbill came through from underneath to put Madison ahead after the first four minutes. Secrist hit another foul and Joe Distl dunked a one-hander to give Madison its longest lead at 8-4. Bucyrus closed the gap to 8-7 but Ed Chelski and Katterhenrich traded gratis tosses to give Madison a 9-8 quarter lead.

COOLS 'EM OFF

Distl led off the second quarter with a free throw but Bucyrus notched seven straight points before the "control" cooled 'em off again. Then Chelski got a foul, Brightbill connected from in close after a fancy bit of passing and Distl hit a one-hander to pare the margin to 17-15.

Bucyrus closed the half leading, 19 to 15, and built up a 28-to-18 lead in the third quarter. However, the Madison players didn't get rattled and Distl hit two from the foul line as the period ended.

The Rams sliced the margin to 28-24 but fell back again to 32-25. Brightbill banged in a rebound and Ray Bader hit a overhead shot to put the score at the 32-29 point.

Bucyrus had averaged 56.9 per game up until last night and it was the first time the Redmen had been held under 40 points. In fact in the last 12 games, Bucyrus had scored in the 50's three times, in the 60's six times and in the 70's twice.

Madison made 11 of 22 free throws and Bucyrus eight of 15. The Redmen lost Bill Kibler and Jack Temple by personals in the fourth quarter.

Groups Review Coach Ousting

FAYETTE, Ia. —(AP)— Students at upper Iowa University yesterday agreed to end their two-day-old strike which was begun in protest of the discharge of basketball coach Joe Fortunato.

In return, three members of the school's board of trustees agreed to meet with a student committee soon to review the dismissal action.

School officials said they discharged Fortunato because his lack of a masters degree was imperilling the school's accreditment.

Fortunato, meanwhile, said he planned to leave soon for his home at Fostoria, Ohio. He said he might return to Kent State, his alma mater, to take graduate work.

More than half the school's students stayed away from classes since yesterday morning.

Archie Moore New Heavy Candidate

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A new candidate for the heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis turned up today in the person of Archie Moore of New York, scheduled to arrive in Columbus today for a Friday bout with the Alabama Kid.

Moore, considered by some as the number one light heavyweight challenger, said he fully expected to be in the elimination matches to pick the new champion.

Cleveland Barons Move Near Lead

(By International News Service)

Top spot in the American hockey league's western division was again within sight of the Cleveland Barons today as they visited Pittsburgh for the second half of a home-and-home series with the Hornets.

Cleveland moved within one point of the first place Indianapolis Caps on a 5-2 win over Pittsburgh last night. The victory dropped the Hornets into a third-place deadlock with St. Louis.

No Tickets At Cage Door

There will be no tickets available tonight for sectional Class A tournament games at Senior high school unless some ducats are returned by Crestline, Galion or Ashland.

George Sherman, Senior high ticket manager, made the announcement this morning and added it was unlikely that any of the three schools would return ducats.

Senior high's allotment of tickets for the Friday and Saturday sessions are also sold out. However, if the Tygers defeat Galion tonight another 275 tickets for Friday's game will go on sale tomorrow at the school's commerical department.

Volleyball Loop Fete Set Tonight

The Girls' Volleyball league will formally conclude its first season tonight with a banquet at the Southern Hotel honoring the champion Chargers team.

Individual gold trophies will be presented to the nine members of the team by Stan Kamen, city recreation director. Team members are: Virginia Zara, Donna Thomas, Mary Miller, Lola Bachelder, Louis Van Winkle, Norma Blandi, Jane Berry, Betty Nelson, and Maizie Birmelin.

Senior Church Court Contests Set Saturday

Last night's Senior Church league basketball schedule as inadvertently listed in yesterday's News-Journal will be played Saturday night at the YMCA.

Deacon Tutors Tribe Hurlers In Drill Camp

TUCSON, Ariz., — (AP) — Deacon Bill McKechnie, who made quite a name for himself as a handler of pitchers when he was a national league pilot, has been delegated responsibility for the Cleveland Indians hurling staff through spring training.

"Bill's in complete charge until April 19, opening day," manager Lou Boudreau said yesterday. "He'll decide when pitchers are ready to begin throwing in batting practice. He'll pick the pitchers for all exhibition games. All I'll know about that department will be what he tells me."

So it will be largely up to the Deacon to trim the Tribe's mound corps from its present 14 to about 10 during the next six weeks.

If Don Black and Russ Christopher, both excused from training sessions here, are physically capable of doing duty, probably only two new pitchers will be added to the world champions' hurling roster. The odds are that they will be Early Wynn and Frank Papish, established big leauers with Washington and Chicago, respectively, before coming to Cleveland in winter trades.

Of four rookies likely to go back to the minors for further seasoning, Mike Garcia, who won 19 games for a poor Oklahoma City club last season, is the best bet to remain. Lyman Linde, Dick Rozek and Will Hafey will have to show up mighty well to stick.

Boudreau may hand McKechnie a 15th pitching candidate in outfielder Bob Kennedy. Kennedy, who batted 301 for the Tribe after coming from Chicago last summer, is a rival of Allie Clark and Hank Edwards for the right field position.

"If he fails to make the grade there," Boudreau said, "I'll give him a trial as a pitcher. My own opinion is that he can be a real good pitcher, but, of course, he needs experience, and that takes time."

Two Heavy Champs In Prospect

MIAMI, Fla.. — (AP) — Two world heavyweight boxing "champions" and a bitter brawl for financial control of the ear-scrambling trade are the likely results of Joe Louis' decision to re-retire and become a promoter.

The two "champs" probably will emerge from this scramble:

1. Winner of a 15-round Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott bout, to be promoted by Louis and his associates in June, will be recognized by the national boxing association.

2. Jack Solomons, British promoter, will claim the title for the survivor of a series involving Lee Savold, Bruce Woodcock and Freddie Mills.

Attitude of the New York state athletic commission, the only major ring group not associated with the NBA, is not definite. Chairman Eddie Eagan probably will receive a copy of Louis' retirement today. He has indicated that he prefers an elimination tournament to select a champ but expects no immediate action.

Louis touched off this wild scramble yesterday in surprising fashion when Abe Green, NBA commissioner, made public a letter in which the brown bomber formally resigned as champion.

In his letter to Greene, Louis wrote that he had entered a partnership with Arthur M. Wirtz and James D. Norris to form the international boxing club. He asked for and was given permission by Greene to run the Walcott-Charles fight for the championship in June.

Louis told reporters here as he boarded a plane for a Nassau exhibition, "I'm glad to retire. It takes a great load off my mind. I could see that I couldn't fight any more and rather than lose the title in the ring. I decided to quit.

Under the provisions of the Walcott-Charles bout, and as announced by Louis, the winner must defend his title within 90 days after their June fight. Either Savold or Gus Lesnevich, who lost his world light heavyweight crown to Mills last July, would be the opponent. Each contestant agreed to defend at least twice a year.

Louis, youngest ever to win the heavyweight title when he stopped Braddock in 1937. At the age of 23, earned $3,887,-323.72 in his career according to ring magazine.

Hamilton, Bucyrus Over First Hurdles

By HAROLD LISK

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Highly-touted quintets from Hamilton and Bucyrus—along with defending champion Findley Trojans—were safely past their first opponents in sectional and district Class A high school tourneys today.

Only one upset of major consequence was recorded in play in 11 Class A tourneys which saw action last night. That occurred at Youngstown, where Ursuline scored a 32-to-24 victory over Canton Central.

Canton Central had been seeded in the district play and up until last night had a record of 15 wins against only three losses. The defeat leaves only two Canton teams in the Youngstown meet.

LOSE ONLY ONCE

Hamilton and Bucyrus scored their wins at Cincinnati and Mansfield respectively. Each has lost only one game all season.

Hamilton's Big Blue defeated Cincinnati Mt. Healthy, 67 to 24, while Bucyrus chalked up its 16th win of the year in turning back Mansfield Madison, 36 to 29.

Findlay got past its first opponent in the A sectional at Findlay without any trouble, submerging Wapakoneta, 62 to 27. Last year's state champs will meet Lima South, winners over Kenton last night, in a semi-final game Friday.

IN CLOSE WIN

Cincinnati's St. Xavier, seeded along with Hamilton Public, in the southwestern district tourney in the Queen City, also recorded a victory last night—a 33-29 win over Roger Bacon.

Play in the Columbus Central district tourney went much as expected with Columbus East, Newark and Columbus Linden winning first round games. Only the Newark win over Columbus North could be termed anything like an upset of the dope bucket.

Defiance and Wauseon fought their way into semi-final play in the Defiance district and at Dayton, seeded Dunbar scored a 59-55 win over Greenville in opening of play there.

Lakewood continued undefeated in getting past St. Ignatius, 47 to 33, at the Berea meet, while Steubenville's Big Red won easily from Central Catholic from the same city, 62 to 47.

Benefit Court Game Only 2 Weeks Distant

The benefit basketball game between the Cleveland Browns and the Mansfield all-stars is only two weeks away.

All proceeds from the March 16 contest at Senior high school will go to the Friendly House gymnasium equipping fund. Advance ticket sales have indicated a good crowd for the battle.

Elmer Hedeen, co-chairman of the Goodfellows club which is sponsoring the game, emphasized today, "We need a sell-out crowd for the game so we can reach out goal of $2,000 or more for the Friendly House gym."

The Goodfellows hope for a crowd of 1,500 persons at the game. Reserved seat tickets are on sale at $2 while general admission ducats go for $1. Uptown ticket offices are at the City News, Elks club and Tawse pharmacy.

The All-Stars will play their second tune-up game Sunday afternoon against the Galion Stars in the Galion armory. The Mansfield team topped the strong Loudonville Flxible Flyers in their first start.

Ontario Battles Forest Five

Hardin County Champions Small, Speedy

By CHARLEY STINE

Ontario high school will play its first district tournament basketball game in nine years tonight when it goes up against Forest at 7:30 in Bucyrus high gym.

Not since 1938 when Coach Dick Casad was the high-scoring schoolboy center have the Warrior fans had a chance to cheer for the team in district play. And only about 210 of them will get a chance to do so tonight.

EACH GET EQUAL

That is the number Ontario was given as its share of the 900 seats in the Bucyrus gym and all tickets were sold out yesterday, Coach Dick Casad reported. The three other schools were given a like amount and 80 tickets will go on sale at 6:45 a. m., fifteen minutes after the doors open.

Opposing Ontario on the floor tonight will be the Hardin county champions who have won 13 games and lost four. One of the losses was a two-pointer to undefeated Salem of Wyandot county which Belleville plays tomorrow night. The Warriors have won 13 of 17.

Ontario will have an advantage in height over the extremely small Forest team and may use this to advantage on the tourney floor which is considerably smaller than the Senior high floor on which the county tourney was played last week. The Warriors were runner-up in that meet, losing to Bellville in the finals.

FOREST IS FAST

Forest's tallest man is five-foot-eleven but the Hardin countians are said to make up for it in speed and aggressiveness. It has won its county tournament for two straight years, losing out to New Reigel in the first game of the district last year.

In the second game tonight at 8:45, New Riegel, Seneca county (15-5) meets Ridgeway, Hardin county (17-6).

★

Sycamore started the tournament off with an upset last night, spilling Mt. Cory, 36-35, in the only game.

Junior Lundy was the Sycamore hero as he brought his team from behind by sinking two free throws with only two seconds to go. Sycamore had a 14-10 record prior to the game while Mt. Cory had lost only two of 15.

Sycamore will meet New Washington in a quarter-final game at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Score by quarters:

Sycamore	10	4	12	10—36
Mt. Cory	7	10	6	12—35

5 Ohio State Teams Compete In Big Nine Sport Tourneys

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Ohio State athletes will make a strong bid for top honors at the annual Western conference carnival of winter sports championships this week end. Buckeye track, swimming, wrestling, fencing and gymnastic squads will journey to five cities for competition.

Larry Snyder's indoor track squad has the best possibility of emerging victorious at Champaign, Ill. Ohio State is out to defend its team title.

MAL IS BACK

The Scarlet and Gray prospects are enhanced considerably with the return of Mal Whitfield, Olympic 400-meter champ, but he will have keen competition from teammate Harry Cogswell, defending champion.

Three crowns may be forfeited by champions, who are unlikely to defend their crowns. Chuckin' Charlie Fonville, Michigan's world champion shot-putter, is out with a back injury; Illinois' Dike Eddleman is expected to pass up the high jump in order to concentrate on basketball, and Herb Barton is unlikely to defend his mile title because of an ankle injury.

RATE GOOD CHANCE

Ohio State's swimmers rate a better than fair chance of recapturing the Western conference laurels they lost to Michigan last year. Olympic Champions Bill Smith and Bruce Harlan are favored to retain their dual crowns.

Michigan is favored in a three-way dogfight for the swimming crown, although Iowa's vastly-improved Hawkeyes may upset the Buckeye-Wolverine dynasty of the past 12 years.

Ohio State's undefeated fencing team may surprise as the Buckeyes already hold a decision over Northwestern's defending champs in a dual meet. The Scarlet and Gray wrestling team has no illusions of upsetting Purdue's titlist but may make a strong showing. Only the gymnastic team doesn't expect to shine.

Senior Loop Ends Season

Play in the Senior league at the Friendly House was concluded last night as the Friendly House Trojans walloped Farmer's Market, 48-23.

Stillwell led the Trojans with 20 points.

Negotiations Open For Indian Rental Of Baseball Yard

CLEVELAND — (ins) — Cleveland Mayor Thomas A. Burke and Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, were to reopen discussions today concerning the tribe's stadium rental contract.

According to Veeck, "We're just going to talk contract and hope to make progress." He added that he did not see "any possibility of arriving at an immediate agreement."

The Cleveland ball club's present contract expires at the end of the coming season. For three years, however, the Indians and the city have talked of coming to an agreement on a long-term contract to take the place of the present five-year pact.

In recent weeks, a few city councilmen, in the absence of Mayor Burke, who was on vacation, accused Veeck of failure to pay the city a fair rental.

Veeck, in turn, accused the councilmen with bringing in personal and irrelevant matters, such as the amount of money the tribe prexy spends on promotion.

Deluxe Racing Plant Planned

BALTIMORE —(AP)— The Maryland Jockey club has announced plans to make Laurel a deluxe racing plant.

Henry A. Parr, III, club president, said Laurel will be rebuilt from "bottom to top" and enlarged to a capacity of 40,000 fans.

It all depends on Pimlico's 25 days being transferred to Laurel next year. But there appeared to be no obstacles to the proposal to close historic Pimlico and concentrate the club's racing at Laurel, midway between Baltimore and Washington.
